ARMED NEGROES IN AUTOS DEFY WHITES

Two Hundred Persons Are Under Arrest Following
Street Battles

WASHINGTON, July 22.—A resolution asking President Wilson to proclaim martial law in the District of Columbia because of continued and growing rioting between whites and negroes was introduced today in the house by Representative Emerson, Ohio.

Secretary Baker announced today he had ordered a "substantial number" of regulars from Camp Meade, Md., to help prevent further rioting tonight. He refused to say definitely how many troops would be here.

Senator Harrison of Mississippi introduced a bill to require the District of Columbia traction companies to operate separate cars for whites and negroes. Representative Clark of Florida asked a special House committee be named to investigate the riots.

Co-incidental with the congressional demands for action the Washington police were trying to prevent the sale of firearms and ammunition in Maryland and Virginia as well as in the District of Columbia.

Alexandria, Virginia, police reported shortly after receiving the request that no more arms be sold, that both whites and negroes were already there in large numbers attempting to make purchases.

Four Persons Killed

In street fighting last night four persons were killed, two seriously injured and thirty others wounded and attended at hospitals. Scores of others were hurt but hospitalized or were assisted by friends from the scenes of the clashes.

Four hundred soldiers and marines, reinforcing the 700 police of the national capital, were unable to cope with the mobs. While they were fighting rioters at one place, another outbreak would be reported from a quarter of the city several blocks distant. The negroes, better armed than the whites, appeared to have the best of several encounters. Early this morning automobiles, crowded with yelling blacks, many of them armed, were dashing about streets in the residential part of town, defying the whites to "come on."

The coming of daylight and a terrific thunderstorm which deluged the city put an end to the fighting. But police heads fear it will be resumed tonight.

The dead reported this morning were Detective Sergeant Harry Wilson, Kenneth Crall and two negroes. Detective Sergeant B. W. Thompson and Private Albert Luck of the Marines were believed to be in dying condition. Of the other casualties five were policemen.

Will be Armed Camp
Major Pullman, Chief of the Washington Police, conferred with the military authorities today and it was expected that as a result of this conference tonight would see the national capital practically an armed camp.

"There will be no parading with the elements of disorder," said Pullman. "All the power of the federal government is behind the police department and these combined forces will see to it that order is restored."

Two hundred persons were under arrest.

Lieut. Hankey Is Dead at Hospital In San Francisco

Lieut. A. H. Hankey
Santa Ana Man Passes Away
Suddenly, the Result of Stomach Trouble

Lieut. Albert Howard Hankey, son of J. A. Hankey, is dead. He died late yesterday afternoon at the Letterman hospital in San Francisco. His death was more or less unexpected, and followed an operation for cancer of the stomach and liver.

The body will be brought to Santa Ana and if it arrives tomorrow funeral services will be held Thursday at the Mission Funeral Home of Mills & Winbiger. He was 27 years of age and a native of Santa Ana.

News of Lieut. Hankey's death will come as great shock to his many friends in the city. He left here two weeks ago for the hospital, after a visit of two weeks at home, at which time he was sick, but still apparently in as good health as he had been for several months.

Overwork during his service period at Paris is believed to have been more or less responsible for the condition which resulted in his death. He was in the radio service, having charge of supplies for branches of the service, with his headquarters at Paris.

Ill But Kept Working

He developed stomach trouble in July of last year, but his desire to be faithful to his duty deterred him from quitting his position and receiving the attention his trouble required. He continued his work until just a few days before the armistice was signed, when he collapsed and was sent to a hospital. It was decided that he was suffering from ulcers of the stomach and that his collapse was due to the bursting of an ulcer.

He returned to the United States in February last, just one year after going overseas and was sent to Ft. McHenry, Maryland, and then to Cooperstown, N. Y., and came home about a month ago, in response to a telegram from his father, advising of the latter's health and probability of an operation. He was here for two weeks, during which time he was unable to retain anything on his stomach. He consulted a number of specialists, and upon recommendation went to the Letterman hospital at San Francisco.

When he left here he told his father that he was feeling quite well and that he would soon leave the hospital there if he continued to feel as well as he did when he left.

Telegram To Father.
Yesterday at noon his father received a wire from the hospital advising that Lieut. Hankey was seriously ill. The father arranged at once to go to San Francisco and went to Los Angeles yesterday afternoon and was waiting for a train for San Francisco, when his son, Carl, caught him at the depot, with a telegram received here announcing the death.

Lieut. Albert Howard Hankey was born in Santa Ana, May 10, 1892. He graduated from the high school in 1910 and Pomona College in 1914. In his high school life he was particularly active in debating, representing his school in many debates. He won the championship for Southern California in oratory. He was editor of the Aerial, the school paper, for one term, and during his last year at Pomona was financial manager of athletics.

He entered the University of California in 1914, as an instructor in public speaking and later became active in the university extension branch.

FOREST FIRES, LEAPING DIVIDES, STEADILY GET WORSE IN NORTH

SPOKANE, Wash., July 22.—With forest fires in northern Idaho, northeast Washington and northwestern Montana leaping divides, new fires starting and old blazes barely held, the situation appears to be steadily getting worse. No rain is falling anywhere in the burning areas. Only the absence of strong winds is preventing a dozen holocausts. The fighters are sticking to the lines around a score of fires, according to supervisors' reports today, and the I. W. W. strike on the lines has failed to materialize.

The Pack River fire, north of Sand Point, is steadily gaining in green timber despite all efforts of several hundred men to stop it. This blaze covers more than 45 square miles. A new fire broke out in the Sand Point district near Grouse Creek. A crew is fighting this.

An uncontrolled blaze has leaped over the crest of Cook's Mountain, three miles west of Newport, Wash., but the town is surrounded by fairly open country and is not in great danger. The Bear Creek fire near Kellogg, Idaho, still is burning fiercely.

ENGLAND PLACES APPROVAL ON PEACE PACT

LONDON, July 22.—Great Britain today had placed its approval on the peace treaty with Germany.

The bill recommending ratification was passed last night by the house of commons on its third reading, by a vote of 163 to 4.

An attempt to defeat the treaty on the basis of the Irish question, injected by Joseph Devlin, nationalist from Belfast, was voted down by the house. Devlin proposed the treaty be rejected because of Premier Lloyd-George's Irish policy.

Replying to Devlin's demand for a plebiscite in Ireland, the premier declared he had despaired of any settlement of the Irish question until the Irish people agreed among themselves. He said the government had tried already to apply the principle of self-determination by means of the Irish convention, but that the nationalists were divided. The premier declared that "Ulster, moreover, did not want self-determination."

Lloyd George pointed out that Ireland was not one nation in race, religion, temperament or anything constituting the essentials of a nation.

Sir Donald MacLean, opening the treaty debate, urged the trial of the ex-kaiser in a neutral country.

"What right have we to assume that any neutral country desires to be the scene of such a trial?" the premier asked.

The Allies had confidence, he said, that whoever was put on trial in Great Britain, "would receive a trial equal to the highest traditions of the British nation."

The bill for the ratification of the Anglo-French treaty, which also was up for consideration, was read the third time without objection.

PHYSICIAN TO QUEEN OF BELGIUM IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 22.—Col. Leon de Page, personal physician to the Queen of Belgium, arrived in Los Angeles last night from San Francisco with Mrs. de Page. They are on their wedding trip and at the same time are conveying to the people of California the thanks of the Queen of Belgium for their generosity.

POLAND TO LEAD IN SUGAR PRODUCTION

WARSAW, July 22.—Poland is preparing to lead in the manufacture of sugar in Europe. Between 60 and 70 beet sugar factories are within the bounds of the new country and the output, on a pre-war basis, should pass a half million tons.

FOCH'S PIPE OF WAR SOLD TO AMERICAN

PARIS, July 22.—Marshal Foch's pipe which he smoked on July 17, 1918, the beginning of the big offensive against the Germans, has been sold to an American for $540. Another American bought Marshal Foch's penholder for $400.

BELA KUN ISOLATED

COPENHAGEN, July 22.—Bela Kun, deposed head of the Hungarian Soviet Government, is held in isolation, according to unconfirmed reports to Vienna newspapers. It was said members of the Soviet directorate at Budapest, who had assumed command, were negotiating with the Allies.

Attitude of U. S. Is Denounced By Japanese Paper

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—"America's attitude toward Mexico is to be in every respect denounced and America is instigating anti-Japanese agitations in various places. This attitude of America makes her a second Germany," declared the Yorucho Choho, an independent Japanese newspaper received today from Tokyo.

"This fact, together with the conscription of a large fleet in the Pacific, deserves profound consideration by the Japanese," the article continues. "Senator Phelan has made a downright anti-Japanese declaration in congress. He denounced the Japanese as the Germans of the Orient. Declaring that it could not be helped if Japan's feelings should be wounded in order to insure America's interests, he urged absolute prohibition of Japanese immigration."

"This is only Mr. Phelan's opinion, but it is difficult to understand why it is intended to injure Japan's feelings by such a statement while Japan is faithfully observing the 'gentlemen's agreement.' The recent attitude of the United States is entirely contrary to the spirit of the league of nations and is causing ill feeling among the various peoples of the world."

BULLETINS

NEW YORK, July 22.—Nine cars oranges and one car lemons sold. Orange market 25 to 50 cents higher. Averages, $1.75 to $5.10. Lemons unchanged. Averages, 3.45 to $3.97. Weather rainy; 8 a. m. temperature, 72.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The House today gave final approval of a national prohibition act providing for enforcement of both war time and constitutional prohibition. The final vote came after a motion to recommit the bill and substitute a much more liberal one had been defeated by a vote of 155 to 255. The final vote on the prohibition bill was 287 for and 101 against, with three members voting "present."

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—The coastwise telephone strike in progress for more than a month will entirely end this afternoon. The central strike committee meeting today adopted a resolution ordering telegrams sent to the various mass meetings to be held later today declaring that the strike is officially ended.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Fifty-one American citizens have been killed in Mexico in the last two years, Henry Fletcher, ambassador to Mexico, told the House rules committee today. Fletcher said he could not recall one prosecution or punishment. In a few cases he was informed of the arrest of some bandits, but no notification of punishment was ever received.

"Is Carranza fulfilling his mission as a governor?" Representative Campbell asked.

"I think he is," Fletcher replied. "Apparently he is endeavoring to maintain friendly relations."

WON'T RELEASE SWEDES
STOCKHOLM, July 22.—The Bolshevik government at Petrograd refused to release five members of the Swedish legation at Petrograd, recently arrested, it was announced here.

Wife of Senator New Figures In Society, Politics

Indiana Woman Prominent at Capitol, Member of Republican Body

WASHINGTON, July 22.—One of the most prominent women in Washington both socially and politically is Mrs. Harry S. New, wife of the senator from Indiana whose name has been used extensively recently in connection with a murder case in Los Angeles, Cal.

Mrs. New, who claims to be a son of the senator is accused of slaying his sweetheart. Mrs. New, however, is not mentioned in connection with the case.

Mrs. New is at present in Washington owing to congress being in session. She is seen frequently at social affairs here in spite of the hot weather and is often consulted about political matters, especially where women are concerned. Mrs. New is a member of the National Women's Republican committee.

BACK FROM GERMANY AFTER 5 YEARS STAY

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—Tatjana Petschnikoff, daughter of Mme. Lili Petschnikoff, famous violinist, was back at the home of her mother in Los Angeles today for the first time since war started in 1914.

She had spent five years in Germany, during which time she reported daily to the German police and never made a move without official consent.

BELIEVE WIFE SLAYER WILL PLEAD GUILTY

UKIAH, Cal., July 22.—Herman J. Knaesche, returned soldier who confessed that he killed his wife of two weeks, is today in the county jail here awaiting trial for murder in the superior court. Knaesche was brought here last night from Santa Rosa and his preliminary hearing was held in the county jail.

Today Knaesche intimated that he would enter a plea of guilty at the trial. It is believed he will face the court the last week in August.

Mrs. Knaesche was killed July 9. Her head was blown in by a shotgun which was found beside the bed on which she died.

OBJECTS TO LONDON TRIAL

12 DEAD 26 INJURED IN AIRCRAFT TRAGEDY

Blazing Balloon Falls Into Counting Room of Bank
At Chicago

LIQUID FIRE TRAPS EMPLOYEES IN ROOM

Many Leap From Windows and Escape; Others Burn
Beyond Recognition

CHICAGO, July 22.—As a coroner's jury began investigation here today of the dirigible wrecking the interior of a metropolitan business house the list of deaths was increased to 12. Milton Norton, newspaper photographer, aboard the dirigible when it fell, died of injuries today. Norton had descended in a parachute, landing heavily in La Salle street. On recovering his senses his first words had been: "Where are my plates?"

CHICAGO, July 22.—Eleven dead and 26 injured was the final count today of casualties in Chicago's most modern tragedy—the fall of an aircraft through the skylight of a metropolitan business building. Late yesterday a 160 foot dirigible fell blazing into the counting room of the Illinois Trust and Savings company.

Two members of the "Wingfoot" Express and nine employees of the bank were among the dead. Most of them were burned to death when the gas bag with its heavy fuselage burst through steel and plate glass and spread burning gasoline in all directions. A score of investigations headed by the coroner and the state's attorney opened today. Seventeen men, mostly employees of the Goodyear Rubber Company, owners of the "Wingfoot," were held for examination.

The dirigible sailed over the city at a height of 500 feet. The course of the big silver bag was watched by thousands in the streets.

The straining thousands saw a flicker of flame at the rear of the bag, then four black dots dropping over the sides, then the crumpling and twisting dirigible slid downward, overtaking the parachuted dots, and crashed into the building.

Only Large Skylight
Of all the buildings in Chicago's business district the "blimp" chose the one life victim for such an accident. The bank building, a two-story structure squatting among the giants of Chicago's financial district, was the only one with a skylight of such proportions.

The flames were controlled only after the gasoline had been burned from the floor.

J. A. Boettner, pilot of the "Wingfoot," was the first to see the danger. He yelled to his companions and slid over the side. His parachute opened nicely and he landed on a roof. Other occupants followed him.

H. Davenport was caught before he could clear the machine and was carried down through a portion of the roof. Another occupant suffered a fractured leg and internal injuries when he alighted in the street.

With hastily gathered furniture, the bank reopened today. A loss of $50,000 in bonds, supposed to have been burned, was announced.

President John J. Mitchell hesitated to estimate the amount of property involved.

Japanese Composer to Stop Naughty Songs of Little Factory Girls

TOKIO, July 22.—Foreigners visiting Japan and listening to the blithe songs in factories and on public works without being able to understand them, are better off than those who do understand the Japanese language, says Mr. K. Toyama, a prominent Japanese composer.

For, he says, the songs are naughty—they are not nice. There are no bad words in them, he says, that is, he doesn't think so, but they are naughty. They are not the songs that little girls ought to be singing.

Mr. Toyama is preparing some things for the girls to sing, which will be about the dying spring, the babbling brook, and singing birds.

The new songs will be submitted to the factory convention in July, and are so written that they may be sung in time with the working of the machinery.

PROBE CRASH OF DIRIGIBLE IN CHICAGO

Eleven Dead, 21 Injured As Result of Aircraft's Fall
Into Building

people I know personally," he said. He thought $15,000 would replace fixtures.

Offers to Pay Damages
Mitchell indicated the Goodyear had offered to settle damages and "do whatever was right" for families of the victims.

The dirigible cost $100,000 and was built in Chicago at the hangar of an amusement park.

The city council was in session when the accident occurred. Immediately, a resolution was adopted calling for immediate enactment of an ordinance regulating aircraft flights over the city.

Pilot Boettner at first blamed static electricity for the burning of his machine. Later he said sparks from the rotary motor—an experiment for "blimps"—may have set the gas bag afire. The motors, he said, were intended to "pull" instead of drive a machine. Attached as they were, he said, exhaust flames may have been blown against the fabric.

Two hundred clerks of the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank, bending over their ledgers yesterday in the daily rush to close their books, thought of nothing but their prosaic daily labors. There was the subdued hum of high pressure work.

A shadow floated across the big skylight, two floors above, then a crash, a blinding light and a detonation. A shapeless mass hurtled through the glass and fell flatly to the marble floor.

It was a man's body. Heavy machinery followed and blinding white flames began to lick the marble pillars and the twisted steel beams of the monster which had turned a quiet counting room into a burning inferno.

Hysterics Break Loose

Screams arose immediately and as the flames leaped up or flowed along the floor in rivulets of gasoline, hysterics broke loose. Frightened screams of women rose above the shouts of men. A terrific rush for the two main exits followed. Some workers leaped for the windows. It was a long jump to the street but women took it. Some of the twenty thousand spectators attempted to catch the jumpers but succeeded only in breaking their falls. Strangely, only a few were injured in these leaps.

Inside a few remained, too terror-stricken to move or slow to realize the danger. Some dove to the big vault and swung its door as far shut as they safely could. Men slid under their desks to escape the spraying liquid fire. The flames caught them and drove them through other rivers of fire.

Within a moment white marble pillars were blackened, marble floors were jammed and there were blood prints where seared bodies rubbed walls and doorways.

Those who fled in the bank were pinned by the heavy motors or framework of the dirigible. Firemen called when the dirigible first burst into flame, rushed into the building at once to drag back those fallen on the edge of the blaze. Some of the rescued were so browned or blackened by the fire that they could not be recognized.

It was a matter of minutes from the time the shadow floated across the light until the quiet bank building had been turned into a furnace and men and women had perished. Chemicals quieted the flames shortly and the bodies under the wreckage were taken out.

The girls were partially identified. Girls Are Identified

Their hats were those remaining in the cloakroom unclaimed. The dead are:

Carpenter, Jacob, 16, bank messenger.

Berger, Helen, bank stenographer.

Davenport, Earl H., publicity man in the "blimp."

Florence, Maria, bank clerk.

Gallagher, Mary, bank stenographer.

Miles, Irene, bank stenographer.

Meyer, Evelyn, telephone operator.

Munier, Edwin, bank clerk.

Otto, Carl, bank telegrapher.

Scanlan, Joseph, bank messenger.

Weaver, Carl, mechanic in the dirigible, Akron, O.

A. W. Hiltabedel and F. I. Cooper, thought first of the securities cluttering their desks. White blackened and blazing forms rushed past them; they collected their papers, made them safe and climbed through windows to the street.

One girl leaped at a window, seven feet above the floor. Her fingers caught, slipped and she fell back into the path of liquid fire.

Don't Know What Happened
"I don't know just what happened," dazed victims said hours after the fire. Several said they thought photographers were snapping flashlights for their monthly magazine.

Among those who watched the last cruise of the "Wingfoot" from loop buildings was H. O. McLean.

"The machine came down nose first," he said. "Its motors were still roaring as it struck the skylight and disappeared into the building."

At the morgues later in the evening there were four unidentified bodies. Identities were established when co-workers recalled the clothing left in the cloak room. One girl, blackened and twisted by fire, had been stripped of all clothing but dainty white oxforbs. She was recognized by these as Evelyn Meyers, telephone operator.

BIGBEE IS SUSPENDED

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 22.—"Insurrection" was the reason given by Bill Clymer for suspending indefinitely Pitcher Bigbee, considered Seattle's best pitching bet.

Baseball circles say Bigbee and Clymer haven't been getting along too well and Bigbee objected strenuously to some of Clymer's orders.

FORD, A GRANDPA, MORE CAUTIOUS ON STAND

Admits Saying Allied War Loan Body Should Be
"Canned" From U. S.

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 22.—Taking the stand for his seventh day of grilling in his million-dollar libel suit against the Chicago Tribune, Henry Ford was today even more cautious than yesterday.

Ford wore a smile when he entered the courtroom today. For the second time he is a grandfather, a son having been born yesterday to Mrs. Edsel Ford, wife of the 25-year-old president of the Ford Motor Company.

Attorney Stevenson, for the Tribune, asked Ford if it was not true that when the allied commissioners visited this country to negotiate a war loan he said they should be "canned" out of the country.

The manufacturer admitted he had made such a remark.

His memory failed him when asked if he had said he would withdraw his deposits from any bank that subscribed to such a loan.

"When you heard of the sinking of the Lusitania, Mr. Ford, did you say, 'The people having been warned, had no business on board.'"

"I have no recollection of saying that."

An interview Ford had with Willis J. Abbott, writer, was read, but little of the article was remembered by the witness.

Abbott quoted Ford as saying he had not been in Stockholm two hours before he became convinced that the only way to attain permanent peace was to crush Germany and that America would be required to aid in the war for permanent peace. The point made by the defense was that this was several months before Ford's anti-militaristic advocacy.

Ford said he did not go to Stockholm, did not reach such convictions and did not remember making any such statements to Abbott.

Ford was taken on a literary excursion when on the stand today. His own peace advertising, Lincoln's speeches, the Monroe doctrine and other documents were discussed. During this, Ford expressed the opinion that the Bible probably would be clear if it were rewritten.

"Mr. Ford by refusing to read exhibits you have created the impression that you cannot read," said an attorney. "Do you wish that impression to stand?"

"I am not a fast reader and I have a touch of hay fever," the motor magnate answered.

REGULARS ORDERED TO HALT RIOTING

rest today, according to police estimates.

The worst outbreak occurred in the early evening at Seventh and T streets in the negro quarter. A mob of 1,000 negroes started to march toward the residences of the whites.

Police and soldiers charged them. They refused to disperse and the troops charged, backed by the police.

Many of the rioters started shooting with revolvers. The fight lasted half an hour, during which negro women hurled bottles and other missiles from the windows and roofs of houses.

Several large mobs of whites formed in the downtown district and tried to invade the black belt, but a cordon of cavalry was thrown around that section after midnight.

Aside from the main clash between armed mobs, or between troops, police and crowds of whites and negroes, there was almost continuous guerrilla warfare.

LIEUT. HANKEY IS DEAD AT HOSPITAL

traveling for the university in the interest of extension work.

Receives Commission
He entered the officers' training camp at the Presidio in June, 1917, and two months later received a commission as second lieutenant. He was placed on the retired list and again took up his work with the extension department of the university.

Desiring to do his bit in defense of his country, he remained with the university but six weeks, when he enlisted in the aviation service and was sent to Austin, Texas, for special training. He was selected, with nine others, by an English officer for an intensive course of training in wireless, radiography, photography, machine, mechanics, etc., for overseas work. After completing the course he was sent to Ellington Field, Houston, Texas, as an instructor in wireless in connection with aviation.

Arriving overseas, he was assigned to radio work, with headquarters at Paris, where he had charge of supplies for different sections of the radio service.

His duties there called him to many fronts, going to Toul, Tours, and many other places, but most of his time was passed in Paris. He was there when the "Big Bertha" bombarded Paris.

A devoted son, an exemplary Christian and a young man with a big vision, Lieut. Hankey was loved by all who knew him, and his untimely death will be regretted by everyone who ever came into contact with him.

He is survived by his father, J. A. Hankey, sister, Helen, and brother, Carl.

OUTSIDE BREAD SHORT WEIGHT, 'TIS CHARGED

60 Percent of County's Consumption of Bread Is Baked Elsewhere

As a result of complaints of short-weight bread being brought into and sold in this city and county, County Sealer George McPhee today began an investigation that will presumably put a crimp in the practice of foisting off a twenty-two ounce loaf for twenty-four ounces, and unless those alleged to be responsible forsake their evil ways, there will be something doing in Judge Cox's court room very pronto.

The law prescribes the weight of the standard small loaf of bread as one pound avoirdupois, and the weight of the standard large loaf as twenty-four ounces, the loaves to weigh this amount twelve hours after baking.

The twenty-four-ounce loaf is in most favor and is most called for by the local trade. Although there are seven bakeries in Santa Ana, and other towns of importance in the county are equally well supplied, approximately sixty per cent of the bread used in Orange county comes from outside points. Los Angeles bakeries furnish the greater share and the product is distributed by speedy trucks that traverse the county in all directions, making it possible to deliver to customers early in the forenoon of each day.

This bread comes into competition with the local product and because of the fact that the distributors have no license to pay and sell in such small quantities as to be classed as retailers as well as wholesalers, there is and has been considerable feeling among county bakers against the outsiders, which attitude is not at all modified by the well-founded report that recently the product distributed by certain of the outside people has been short of the weight required by law.

County Sealer McPhee has been out of town for the last six weeks engaged in other lines of activities coming within the purview of his department and so has not been able to keep a check on the distribution of bread, but yesterday he visited the local bakeries and took samples of bread, weighing these at the time and again weighing them at intervals since, his object being to determine what the actual shrinkage is, so that he may be in position to act fairly in handling cases of short-weight bread in future.

The first weighing of the samples taken by McPhee yesterday were weighed in the presence of the people at the bakeries and grocery stores where the bread was exposed for sale, the second weighing being made today at McPhee's office at the court house before a witness, the result showing the shrinkage to be very small, running from one-quarter ounce on the twenty-four ounce loaf twenty-four hours after baking to one-half ounce on the twenty-four ounce loaf thirty-six hours after baking, while some of the samples had lost so little in weight after twelve hours from making as to render the discrepancy hardly appreciable.

With this data as a starter, Sealer McPhee will in future require all bakers and distributors of bread to comply strictly with the law and proposes to confiscate all short-weight bread found by him and prosecute those responsible.

Incidentally, the samples of bread used by McPhee in the demonstration were sent by him to the Santa Ana Day Nursery.

Miss Holly Lash and Miss Violet Wieseman are attending the Epworth League Convention at Huntington Beach.

Well, then, we'll have to do the best we can. Get an old soft hat, a strip of bright-colored cloth a foot long and an inch wide, a big needle and some coarse thread, a dozen or more of the longest feathers of any kind you can find. Now, cut the brim off the hat close to the crown. Sew the feathers an inch from the bottom edge of the crown this way: Run your needle through the butt end of each feather—but don't sew the feathers against the hat—leave about half an inch of thread between each one and the hat. Place the feathers about two inches apart—have enough to go all the way around the edge. Next, run your needle through the middle of each feather. Have the thread long enough to go through every one of them and tie it. This will keep the feathers from flapping around in every direction. Now take your strip of cloth, long enough to go across your forehead from one ear to the other, and sew one edge of it to the edge of the hat. Tack the other edge of the cloth to the hat between the feathers, and there! You have your war bonnet!

In the old days, an Indian's war bonnet meant a good deal to him. For before he could put a single feather in it he had to do some good or brave deed, and he had to get permission of the tribe to make his war bonnet. Every feather in it stood for something he had done! so that when a warrior was dressed up you could tell what kind of a man he was. It was a good deal like it is with a boy scout. You can tell good things he has done by the badges he wears.

AMUSEMENTS

"Come Out of the Kitchen" Marguerite Clark, after finishing her new Paramount picture, "Come Out of the Kitchen," adapted from Alice Duer Miller's story and A. E. Thomas' popular dramatization of the same, left New York for California, where she resumed activities at the Morosco studio at Hollywood.

There, under the direction of Walter Edwards, Miss Clark started work immediately in the Paramount version of Clyde Fitch's well-known comedy, "Girls," which as a stage production, was one of the most pleasing of the many delightful comedies and dramas from the pen of the late playwright. "Come out of the Kitchen" will be shown at the West End Theatre tonight and tomorrow.

It is several years since Miss Clark has been in California, her recent work having been confined to the Eastern Studios of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, so that the change will doubtless be a welcome one to the little Paramount star whose popularity is second to none in the whole realm of motion pictures.

Business Man Sings Praises

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and gas continually. Doctors thought I had stomach ulcers or cancer. After last attack they advised going to Rochester, Minn., for an operation. INQUIRIES SHOW MUCH BUILDING IN PROSPECT

Lumber Yards See Activity Assured Well Into the Future

Constant inquiries made at local lumber yards convinced the managers of the yards that a good many new residences are to be built in Santa Ana this summer and fall.

There are a good many people who are contemplating building who are not yet quite ready to start construction. These people are making inquiries as to costs and prospects for advances in prices, and out of the many who inquire, a large percentage is almost sure to build.

A steady stream of construction is now under way in Santa Ana, as one will find who rides about the city. In every part of the city one finds new houses in process of construction. There are a number of residences just completed, others soon to be completed, and others just starting.

Today lumber is being hauled from the Chapman yard to the corner of Fifteenth and Broadway, where E. A. Nor is to build a residence for C. J. Seaman.

Beauty In Old Age.

You often see a beautiful old lady and she seems to be as happy as she is beautiful, for beauty and happiness depend largely upon good health. Indigestion or constipation are to a great extent responsible when old age lacks beauty and happiness. This can often be remedied by taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the digestion, invigorate the liver and move the bowels. This makes you feel better and look better. Try it. They only cost a quarter.—Advertisement.

VISITING ATTORNEY IS DELIGHTED WITH CITY

Direct from the Sacramento valley, one of the great valleys of the state, O. G. Hopkins has fallen in love with Santa Ana and Orange county, although he has been here but a day or two, and his observations have been mostly along the highways leading into the city.

He is a prominent attorney of Sacramento, and came south on legal business in Santa Ana and embraced the opportunity to make it a vacation for himself and family, and at the same time see Southern California. They drove down in their six-passenger Studebaker, coming by the valley route. They will return via the coast.

They are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund E. Smalley, 825 Cypress avenue. Mr. Hopkins is accompanied by his wife, two daughters, Evelyn and Marian, and son, Master Marshall.

"Santa Ana and Orange county should enjoy a wonderful growth in the next few years," declared Attorney Hopkins today. "The resources here seem unlimited. The oil industry certainly is great. The wonderful diversity of crops and the excellent soil and climatic conditions are wonderful. I have never seen their equal anywhere."

"My trip into the county is something of a revelation to me—it is simply fine."

Good For Indigestion.

If you are troubled with indigestion take a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels. You will be surprised when you see how much better you are feeling after taking a few doses of them.—Advertisement.

WRITE TODAY!

Ask Your Senator and Congressman to Aid in the Repeal of Section 630 of the New Revenue Act.

Section 630 of the Revenue Act of 1918 reads as follows:

"That on and after May 1, 1919, there shall be levied, assessed, collected and paid, a tax of 1 cent for EACH 10 CENTS or FRACTION thereof of the amount paid to any person conducting a SODA FOUNTAIN, ICE CREAM PARLOR, or other similar place of business for drinks commonly known as SOFT DRINKS, compounded or mixed at such place of business, or for ICE CREAM, ICE CREAM SODA, SUNDAES, or other similar articles of food or drink, when any of the above are sold on or after said date, for consumption IN or proximity to such place of business.

"Such tax shall be paid by the purchaser to the vendor at time of sale, and shall be collected, returned, and paid to the United States by such vendor in the same manner as provided in Section 502."

On May 1, 1919, every SODA FOUNTAIN in this country, and every dealer in SOFT DRINKS, became, under this clause, a collector of INTERNAL REVENUE for Uncle Sam.

Advertised FOOD products, preparations of a NON-MEDICINAL nature, MALTED MILK, MALTED BEEF PEPTONE, etc., are not to be taxed because it was recognized by the framers of the act that these articles are WORTHY in their nature, and necessary to the health of the people.

This was sensible DISCRIMINATION, but it SHOULD BE CARRIED FURTHER! Ice Cream is a FOOD, so is the ice cream CONE, and the conviction is spreading that the tax should be AMENDED, in so far as it applies to ICE CREAM PRODUCTS and refreshing drinks served at SODA FOUNTAINS.

A bill for the repeal of Section 630 is already being formulated at Washington; but unless the sentiment of the country SUPPORTS the bill, it will not pass.

Here follows the text of a PETITION addressed to CONGRESS, DRUGGISTS and DEALERS in many sections are SIGNING this, and sending it to Washington in support of the movement toward repeal. Read carefully then clip out the COUPON in lower left hand corner; fill in your NAME and ADDRESS—and the NAME of your CONGRESSMAN, (which you will find in the PRINTED LIST OPPOSITE), then all you need to do will be to hand the clipping to ANY druggist, or ANY dealer operating a SODA FOUNTAIN, who will see that your protest is mailed at once!

To the Congress of the United States:

We, the undersigned, respectfully and earnestly petition you to REPEAL the TAX on SODA WATER, ICE CREAM, and similar articles of food and drink, as provided for in Section 630 of the Revenue Act of 1918.

1: BECAUSE it is a tax on the DAILY MEAL of a large and increasing number of people who take their luncheon at the soda counter.

2: BECAUSE it is an unjust burden on many children, whose greatest pleasure is an ICE CREAM CONE, a SODA, or dish of ICE CREAM.

3: BECAUSE it is unfair to tax ice cream at FOUNTAINS and in ICE CREAM PARLORS and not in hotels and restaurants.

4: BECAUSE it is a clumsy and unbusiness-like method of raising revenue; an annoying and most inconvenient tax to collect, and unnecessarily expensive to the Government for the amount of revenue secured.

Above is the language of the petition now being used in many communities. It is NOT the one which YOU are requested to sign. Please USE THE COUPON at LEFT of this page.

To the Honorable
Care National House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

Sir: I respectfully urge you do all in your power in support of the movement aiming to bring about the REPEAL of the TAX on SODA WATER, ICE CREAM, and similar articles of FOOD and DRINK, as provided for in section 630 of the REVENUE ACT of 1918.

EQUAL JUSTICE TO ALL

Great wharves are destroyed not by the tempests which whirl above them, but by the terredo which eats away their foundations. Whenever unjust special privileges are granted to the few at the cost of the many; whenever either millionaires or mobs are permitted by public indifference to invade either general or individual rights, there the Declaration of Independence is disregarded or defied. Our fathers fought to create and preserve a nation, not to liberate Freedom from the prison of an oligarchy and then to hurl her under the feet of the lawless.

In the life of all the nations of antiquity, there came first the childhood of patriotism, simplicity and public virtue; next the manhood of military achievement; then the old age of wealth, extravagance and debauchery; lastly the senility of decay and the silence of death. The republics of antiquity were centuries in traveling the inevitable round, but we live in an age of steam and electricity, and we have whirled into the confines of the second era. If we would avoid the fate of ancient Rome we must avoid the errors of ancient Rome. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and only cash payments will be received.

It will be noticed when traveling by rail that ever again the wheels of the car are tested by striking them with a hammer. Our country is journeying onward at a pace that should require us at every station to sound each wheel with the testing hammer of the Declaration of Independence, and if it fail to sound the response that every man has an equal right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, then we should follow the example of the railroad hands—remove the defective wheel, throw it into the scrap heap, and replace it with a sound wheel.

Every citizen, whether rich or poor, should make it a part of his duty to see that every other citizen, whether rich or poor, receives equal and exact justice. Had Hampden consulted his personal comfort and paid the seven shillings of ship money, constitutional liberty might still have been a stranger in England. Had Jefferson been content to pay his stamp tax and Adams been satisfied to drink his tea instead of steeping the waters of Boston bay with it, the flag of our country might never have floated in the breeze. With a citizenship of selfish indifference the loss of the republic itself is a possibility.

The power to preserve this nation rests with the people, and if they should ever prove corrupt or indifferent, alas for "the world's last hope of a free government on earth."

ROOSEVELT ON LEAGUE

There has been considerable speculation of late as to what position Theodore Roosevelt would have taken with regard to the peace treaty, and particularly the league of nations covenant, if he were living today.

It is impossible, naturally, for any living man to say precisely what he would have thought of the document as it is drawn. As to his views on the main principles involved, there does not seem to be any occasion for doubt.

Mr. Roosevelt had written a great deal in favor of a world federation before the war. In October, 1914, three months after the war broke out, he wrote an article for the New York Times which includes these passages:

"The one permanent move for obtaining peace which has been suggested with any reasonable chance of attaining its object is by an agreement among the great powers, in which each should pledge itself not only to abide by the decisions of a common tribunal, but to back with force the decision of the common tribunal."

The nations (members of the league) should agree to certain rights which should not be questioned, such as territorial integrity, their rights to deal with their own domestic affairs, and such matters as whom they should or should not admit to residence and citizenship within their own borders."

Recommending, as part of the league organization, "an amplified Hague court," he maintained that member nations should "agree not only to abide, each of them, by the decision of the court, but all of them to unite with their military forces to enforce the decree of the court as against any recalcitrant member. Under these circumstances it would be possible to agree on a limitation of armaments which would be real and effective."

As for the results which might reasonably be expected from such a league:

"It would be impossible to say that such an agreement would at once and permanently bring universal peace, but it would certainly mark an important advance. It would certainly mean that the chances of war were minimized and the prospects of confining and regulating the war immensely increased. Such a scheme will mean that at last a long stride has been taken in the effort to put the collective strength of civilized mankind to secure the peace of righteousness, the peace of justice, among the nations of the earth."

CHINA NEEDS TREES

An exchange of tree seeds is to take place between China and the United States. China needs trees. She wants many of the hardy North American trees to renew her devastated forests. She offers us seeds of some of her native trees, including a few rare species adaptable to conditions in this country.

China's own desperate need for trees should point a moral to every other now wooded land. Says Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association: "China is the standing example of what a country can suffer from widespread and indiscriminate cutting of its forests."

The tremendous floods which sweep over China at frequent intervals are the result of the destruction of her forest lands. These floods do incalculable damage. They destroy whole towns and villages and millions of dollars' worth of property, besides endangering the lives of people and inflicting great hardship on them.

The economic and industrial loss is another evil phase of the ruined forests which cannot be ignored. Crops are ruined, people are made homeless. Fuel is most difficult to procure.

The plan now is to develop big forests on the watersheds of the rivers that flow through the great northern and central plains of China. According to engineers who have carefully studied the problem, that is the only solution. It is a long and slow process, however, with plenty of time for much further damage before the floods are checked naturally by properly wooded mountain slopes and hill-sides.

Are the people of this country really awake to the need of keeping our forests constantly replenished? Are they doing everything in their power to promote legislation insuring consistent reforestation and to keep woods on their own private lands in thriving condition?

Better Institutions

Pasadena Star News

Southern California youths need not go far from home to acquire higher education. The State Normal School, at Los Angeles, this week becomes formally a Southern California branch of the University of California, passing to the control of the regents regular university instruction is to be given after this first year. And before many years, as now purposed, the scope of the work will be broadened so as to be on a par with the full four years' course given at Berkeley. This will give great impetus to higher educational effort in this section. It will be of pronounced cultural value to the community. While Los Angeles will be the center of this, it will radiate to other localities in this section.

Comes now announcement that the University of Southern California is to be expanded greatly in din buildings, equipment and instructions is to be placed abreast the progressive universities of the country. This is gratifying and friends of this worthy institution expect great things from this timely expansion.

Other institutions of higher learning in this section are athrob with life and progressive energy. Occidental, Pomona, St. Vincent's, University of Redlands, and others, frequently report betterments and enlarged plans for work.

Throop College of Technology, an unique institution in this field, reports substantial progress frequently and always has its course steered onward and upward.

Enforcement Law

Fresno Republican

There should be very little patience with the effort of the wets to secure the adoption of "amendments" to the proposed federal enforcement of the dry law. One of the stock arguments of the wets has always been that Prohibition cannot be enforced. Well, if it cannot, why the bother about any enforcing law. The fact is that Prohibition can be enforced if the enforcement law is drawn in good faith by those who mean to enforce it. By seeking to get loopholes into the law, the wets thereby confess that an honest law can be enforced. The cry about a "drastic" law comes with poor grace from those who maintained all along that no law could be devised by man that would prevent the manufacture and consumption of alcoholic drink. If the law is to be drastic, it is probably to meet the challenge of the wets. If a jailbreaker should boast that no cell could hold him, it would hardly be his function to complain if the jailor took extra precautions in his case.

There could be, and was, honest disagreement of opinion as to the policy of national prohibition. But, it being now the law, there can be no honest disagreement of opinion as to the enforcement of this law.

Full Speed Ahead

Get Busy and Do It

Some of these boys who are home from the navy are tackling problems with a spirit that was unknown to them before they left home. They didn't care a great deal for the sea-going life, perhaps, but they learned a good deal about farming and business.

They have learned that there is a way to get things done. That way is, get busy and do them.

The navy is no place for anyone whose disposition is soaked in procrastination. In the navy, when something new and up-to-date is needed, that thing is secured as quickly as possible.

Perhaps, the house has needed painting for a long time. Then, too, "dad" has been talking of building a new barn, but he has never gotten around to it.

Possibly, there is a well to be dug, or the pumping plant improved. It's likely that the old team of horses ought to be sold and a new team or a tractor bought in order to do all the farm work that is necessary if the place is to be kept up and coming.

The store needs a new front. The quarters are too small. Things need to be straightened around a bit. Fresh paint and new wall paper will add to appearances and give some snap to the place.

There are lots of things that a youngster just back from the navy may have to suggest. He has been where they do things that should be done. And he has the right idea. He knows that the way to get a thing done is to get busy and do it.

How Hughes Lost

The Worcester, Massachusetts Evening Gazette, referring to the candidacy of Hiram Johnson for the presidency, raises the question of the last presidential campaign in California. The Gazette says: "The national committee apparently steered the candidate up against the wrong combination. In any event, Mr. Johnson and his friends did not think they had been sufficiently recognized. Their dignity was somewhat ruffled. Their feelings were fractured. They proceeded to get satisfaction by taking it out on Mr. Hughes and the Republican party."

Of course all California will recall that this is exactly the opposite of what actually happened. The national committee did not "steer Mr. Hughes up against the wrong combination." On the contrary, both of its members in California and its campaign committee in the east tried to keep him out of California at the inopportune time at which he insisted on coming. When he did come he was taken possession of by the outgoing state committee and his campaign utilized, not for his benefit or for the benefit of the Republican party, but exclusively to promote their factional fight to keep themselves in power as against the known will of the majority of the Republican voters. Mr. Hughes stubbornly refused to set aside arrangements which he knew were wrong, insisting on his formal rule of accepting the plans of each state committee, right or wrong. Upon this principle, he followed one policy in Illinois and Oregon and carried both states, and the opposite policy in Washington and California, and lost both states. If any "dignity" was "ruffled" in California it was not that of Mr. Johnson and his immediate political associates. It was that of the whole people.

And, far from "taking it out on Mr. Hughes and the Republican party," Governor Johnson and his associates proceeded, until the end of the campaign, to devote their entire energies, not to Governor Johnson's campaign, but to undoing the blunders of Mr. Hughes' campaign, in a vain effort to recover what he had lost. The alleged Republican organization, which had taken possession of Mr. Hughes and had abused his confidence, was voted out of existence the next week and those whose assistance to Mr. Hughes while he was in California had been refused were put in charge. It may not be generally known that the new Progressive-Republican state committee, composed entirely of Governor Johnson's friends, devoted not the majority of its efforts, but absolutely all of its efforts to the Hughes campaign. It raised a large campaign fund, every cent of which was spent on the Hughes campaign and none at all for Governor Johnson. All the literature it sent out was Hughes literature; all the meetings it held were Hughes meetings; all the organization it established was Hughes organization. Even when the congressional committee sent out a large contribution to Governor Johnson for use in his senatorial campaign, the governor immediately turned over the entire amount to the state committee and every cent of it was spent exclusively on the Hughes campaign.

Governor Johnson, from the time of his nomination, devoted himself almost exclusively to campaigning for Hughes. All his speeches were Hughes speeches, and in the latter end of the campaign they practically consisted of nothing else. His final great meeting in Dreamland rink in San Francisco was devoted exclusively to campaigning for Hughes. The net result was that Governor Hughes, who had lost California by at least half a million votes the day he left the state, came within 3,000 votes of carrying it on election day. Governor Johnson, to be sure, carried it by 300,000. But if it had not been for the efforts of Governor Johnson and his friends the difference between the votes instead of being 30,000, would have been a million.

The defeat of Hughes in California, and thereby the defeat of the Republican party in the nation, was due to the sub-idiotic intelligence and the narrow, selfish obstinacy and the dishonest false pretenses of a state organization which had foisted temporarily on the Republican party of California by default, against the will of its members. Some of the blunders of Mr. Hughes in California were his own and the rest he submitted to having imposed on him by this organization. He lost California and the presidency in the first ten seconds of his first speech in which he opened his campaign in San Francisco.

THE WORLD'S HOPE

The progress and the welfare of the human race waits upon the efforts to make permanent the moral gains secured by the winning of the war.—Dean Charles R. Brown.

The League of Nations will mean the loosening of the shackles of militarism and the marching of the civilized nations of the world toward a future of universal law and universal peace.—Dr. Henry van Dyke.

The proposed League of Nations is part and parcel of this great idea of international justice now having its new birth and baptism.—Prof. Irving Fisher.

If the hesitation of the United States results in a collapse of the League of Nations, the world faces another terrific war in the future.—Dr. Talcott Williams.

The only peace guarantee against both war and anarchy is International Order and the recognition of International Law. This guarantee can only be made effective by the alliance of all the nations sharing a common ideal.—George W. Wickersham.

The best thing that has been given us and the only thing we have before us is this League of Nations. We have no other League of Nations. We have only this one. We must take this one or no one can tell what will come.—Dr. Anna Howard Shaw.

Convenient, indeed indispensable, as statesmen found the newly-planned League of Nations to be for the execution of present plans of peace and reparation, they saw it in a new aspect before their work was finished. They saw it as the main object of the peace, as the only thing that could complete it or make it worth while. They saw it as the hope of the world, and that hope they did not dare to disappoint.—Woodrow Wilson.

I saw men die and I think I know what they died for. Democracy is not an empty word for those boys, and if some of our cynical diplomats succeed in blocking President Wilson in his great fight, they will have betrayed the thousands of boys who died in the faith that they were giving their lives to prevent the recurrence of another such world tragedy.—Capt. Thomas G. Chamberlain.

America will be trebly damned, if, though its leader has had it in his hands to bring about the creation of the League of Nations, America shall have failed him and above all its own moral genius.—Dr. Stephen S. Wise.

The League of Nations is not a party issue and cannot be made a party issue without party disaster.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

The men who are big enough to be senators should be big enough to set the good of the country above their dignity; they should be broad enough to see that the League of Nations is the only alternative to a big army and that co-operation of the Allies with this nation is essential to its success.—Portland Oregonian.

As lovers of your country and as lovers of mankind, I ask you to use all your influence with our senators to have the treaties embodying the League of Nations idea ratified.—William Howard Taft.

THE AFTERGLOW

The sun has set. With threatening form.
The gray clouds roll, previsioning the storm.
Over the weary earth they spread a pall,
As deeper yet the evening shadows fall;
When, lo, the parting sun sends back a ray—
A pledge that yet shall come another day!
It paints with tender touches all the skies,
And earth is turned to glorious paradise.
The afterglow, the afterglow!
Through sunset's gate I may not go.
But, oh, how thrills my heart to see
That lost light shining back to me—
Promise of glory yet to be—
The afterglow!

So when for those we love the sun goes down,
When gray skies chill, and deepening shadows frown,
Comes back a ray of shining life once more!
More beautiful, more radiant than before,
Its tender, lingering glory still shines on,
And holds the promise of tomorrow's dawn.

The afterglow, the afterglow!
Through sunset's gate I may not go.
But, oh, how heavenly sweet to see
My lost light shining back to me—
In tender, radiant memory—
The afterglow!

Every one interested in this most vital question is cordially invited to be present to hear this woman, who is authority on the question.

Week End Guests.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kenyon of Long Beach were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morrison. Mrs. Kenyon and Mrs. Morrison visited with friends in Pomona during the middle of the week and Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morrison of Los Angeles spent the day with them.

Safe Journey
Friends have received word from Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Cleland and family of their arrival in Vancouver, B. C. The trip was very successfully made in about two weeks' time.

Birthday Dinner
Mrs. E. W. Hardy entertained at dinner on Sunday in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Alice W. Overshiner. A centerpiece of beautiful hydrangeas formed the decorations, and an informal afternoon of music and visiting was enjoyed.

Guests from Houston
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yates, from Houston, Texas, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Brinsdine of West First Street.

They have been spending the past month in Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake, San Francisco and Santa Ana.

Mrs. Brinsdine is an aunt of Mrs. Yates, and Sunday she planned a family dinner for them, inviting G. N. Glover of Ontario and Holt Glover of Los Angeles, who has recently returned from overseas duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Brinsdine have planned several short trips to places of interest during the time their guests are here.

Tomorrow they go to Los Angeles, Pasadena, Thursday to Catalina and some time will be spent in Long Beach.

Today Mr. and Mrs. Yates are visiting the Ainsworths in Orange.

Tustin W. C. T. U.
The Tustin W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. L. A. Cock Thursday afternoon, July 24. Members are urged to be present.

Initiation Ceremonies
The regular meeting of Hermosa Chapter of the Eastern Star was held last evening in the Masonic Hall with a large attendance.

and patrons at the request of the master, Prof. J. W. McCormack as patrons, conduct a meeting and following the usual business ritual last evening, Mrs. P. L. Toole, acting as matron and Prof. J. W. McCormack as patron took charge of the initiatory work.

Three new members, Mrs. Leamy, of Laguna Beach and Dr. and Mrs. Roy Horton of Santa Ana were taken into the organization.

There were remarks from the visiting guests, who were the officers of the Hollywood Chapter and from Dr. John Wehrly, as this was his first attendance since his return from the service. Dr. J. L. Dryer, who was the first patron of Hermosa Chapter, organized in 1890, thirty years ago, was also present at the meeting.

Light refreshments were served in the banquet room, arranged with flowers and greenery.

Enthusiastic Convention
The Epworth League convention at Huntington Beach is progressing nicely. There are excellent speakers to deliver addresses. The work is interesting and the competition among the districts keeps the enthusiasm at a top notch.

The honors for having the largest attendance went to Rev. John Oliver's league of the First Methodist Church, twenty-seven registered from there. The South Methodist sent twenty-one.

They had a great time last night, Santa Ana starting with two or three good yells to indicate their strength and numbers and led by Charles Robinson, president. Many of the town people go down each night for the services and fun. Sunday there will be no young people's meeting here as they will all join at the beach.

Thursday will be a big night, as each community is to carry out an original "stunt" and today the Los Angeles district is to play the San Diego district for the baseball championship. Santa Ana has been asked to put up the battery. There is a large amount of friendly rivalry over the game as Los Angeles has been the winner for two successive seasons and if she wins this year she will lay claim to the championship for good. San Diego is confident it can't be done—at least not without a strenuous struggle.

Prof. T. C. Knowles, president of the College of the Pacific, will speak tonight and Bishop Leonard of San Francisco will address the convention tomorrow night.

LEMON JUICE FOR FRECKLES
Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try It!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless and never irritates.—Adv.

Dr. Mary E. Wright Home
Dr. Mary E. Wright of North Ross Street has returned from a ten days' vacation, spent mostly at Catalina.

While there Dr. Wright had the pleasure of meeting old friends from New York, Detroit and other eastern points, several of whom expect to visit Santa Ana later as Dr. Wright's guests.

Among them is Frederick Zimmerman, an artist-sculptor, who has studied in Detroit, but who spends his summers sketching at La Jolla, Laguna Beach, Catalina Island and other California points of beauty.

Another friend, Richard Hardy, who teaches Spanish in the Detroit High schools, is traveling with Mr. Zimmerman, and is conversant with the Mexican situation, after a residence of seven years in Mexico City.

Dr. Wright boosted the home town and the future of Santa Ana to the eastward and informed them of the prospective Inn to be built for the comfort of travelers. Numerous Santa Ana friends in Catalina made the homelike atmosphere.

City and County Briefs

Contractor A. G. Wright began pouring concrete Thursday on the new county East Seventeenth street pavement and now has the work well under way. He began operations at the city limits and is working eastward to the Prospect avenue pavement.

Lieut. Clyde Slater of Orange, recently discharged from the aviation service after several months' service overseas during which he was injured in the leg when his airplane crashed into a train, has been employed by the supervisors in the county auditor's office to check up the maintenance cost of Orange county good roads since the system was turned over by the county highway commission.

Joseph S. Zwart, formerly of Des Moines, has purchased the fifty-two acre citrus property of Col. A. B. Shaw, west of Oxnard. The property adjoins the fifty-acre lemon grove of Frank P. Clarkson of Los Angeles, formerly of Santa Ana. The owners of these two properties have entered a partnership and their groves will be known as Melrose Rancho. Mr. Clarkson is a former Iowa newspaper man. For a time he owned the Santa Ana Blade which he sold to the Register.

Donald E. Clendennon, son of William Clendennon, formerly of Santa Ana, died on a ranch near Santa Monica yesterday soon after he was injured by a windmill that fell upon him while he was at work in the bottom of a well. Donald was born in this city. For several years William Clendennon was a partner here of Ben E. Turner. The family moved to Los Angeles about twelve years ago. Donald E. Clendennon was married about six months ago.

E. A. Wiekhorst of 108 East First Street has sold his residence at that address to J. A. Ranney, vice-president of the Excelsior Dairy Co.

Dr. H. N. Brothers has purchased the lot at 1421 North Broadway and has started the erection of a ten-room house.

Walter Stuke of Tustin avenue, was slightly injured when his motorcycle collided yesterday afternoon with a Standard oil truck at the corner of French and First streets. Clyde Thompson was driving the truck. The injured lad was conveyed to the office of a physician, where he was treated.

H. B. Jecreys of Newport Beach, is at the Santa Ana hospital as the result of a most unusual accident yesterday afternoon. His right leg is broken. He drove his car into the Orange County Jail Works and in attempting to move the car from one position to another by pushing, his foot slipped out from under him and he fell to the hard floor. He is about fifty years of age.

Leo Goepfer, justice of the peace at Newport, is spending the summer at San Juan Hot Springs for his health and has asked the supervisors to extend his leave of absence from August 1 to October 1. He writes that he is improved in health, but does not feel justified in returning home as yet.

N. W. Butters of Los Angeles, was caught speeding at forty-three miles an hour. He paid his $20 fine under Justice Cox's schedule without a murmur.

"Old Man" Simon, an aged burro, died at the county park yesterday of old age. A man now twenty-five years old remembers seeing this burro when he was a very young boy, so it must be "kinda" old for a burro. Its teeth had all been lost, it is reported, so it could hardly eat. Simon had been a family pet for years, so was not killed. Yesterday a call was sent to the humane officer to kill the animal, but it died shortly afterwards.

A fine $10,000 residence is to go on the northwest corner of Eighteenth and Main streets for Dr. W. A. Flood. The plans are out and the contract has been awarded to A. M. Boyd. Mr. Flood bought the corner some time ago for the purpose of building a fine home there.

News from Orange County Towns

CITY HALL SITE PURCHASE IS COMPLETED

Orange City Council Orders Warrants Drawn for Final Payments

ORANGE, July 22.—Warrants for the final amounts due for the purchase of a city hall site, consisting of three lots at the corner of Chapman avenue and Center street were ordered drawn at a meeting of the city council yesterday morning.

One warrant was for $3150 for completing payment on two of the lots, and the other was for $810 to complete payment on the third.

The sum of $3150 was originally authorized in April but the warrant was refused payment by the city treasurer on the ground that proceedings authorizing the purchase of the property were irregular. The city brought suit to compel payment but the Appellate court declined to order the treasurer to honor the warrant. New proceedings were therefore instituted.

City Treasurer Clement states that he is satisfied with the present proceedings and will pay the warrant when presented.

An ordinance designed to regulate the keeping of domestic animals, chickens and rabbits, was killed by the council when it came up for second reading. The ordinance provided that horses, cows, etc., must be kept at least 100 feet from an occupied dwelling, and rabbits and chickens at least 100 feet. It was found that the ordinance would work hardship on a great many people and so much protest came to the board that it was decided to discard the plan.

The contract for city printing was awarded to the Daily News for the coming year.

A request for extension of a water main on South Tustin street to supply a crushed rock plant operating in the creek was referred to the fire and water committee and water superintendent.

WESTMINSTER NOTES

WESTMINSTER, July 22.—R. E. Larter has been appointed local chairman of the Orange County War Service Recognition Association, and is thereby a member of the Advisory Committee which is composed of all local chairmen. He has chosen as his helpers, Mrs. E. H. Hare, Mrs. A. J. Fogler, Mrs. J. H. Patterson, Mr. O. J. Day and Mr. Willis Warner.

This organization is arranging for a celebration to be held at Orange County Park on Admission Day, September 9, where each returned service man or woman will be presented with a souvenir. Each locality in the county will assist in the purchase of these medals.

Dr. Letitia Richards and Miss Scheuch of Pasadena came Friday afternoon and spent the week end at the former's ranch here, returning Sunday afternoon. Dr. Richards is something of a carpenter as well as a physician and improves her time spent at her week ends here in making articles of furniture for her cottage. She has made a couch, a table, a cupboard, benches, etc. Saturday she put a new wire screen on the back porch. She expects to spend the month of August here.

Mrs. J. F. Patterson and her house-guests, Mrs. Mary Carlyle and daughter Virginia, spent Monday at Long Beach, where they visited Mrs. Patterson's sister, Mrs. Lottie Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Wilson and son Ivy, of Arizona, who are spending a month at Long Beach were dinner guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edwards. They went from there to visit Mr. Wilson's sister, Mrs. Henry Winters, at Wintersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edwards and baby leave Wednesday this week for the north in their Oakland in company with his brother, N. T. Edwards and family of Orange. They plan going as far as Oregon and may take the train from there into Washington where Mrs. Edwards' sister and family live.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parr and children spent Sunday at Long Beach. On their return they found the cards of friends from the east who had called in their absence and whom they had not seen for some time.

Among those who attended the camp meeting at Huntington Beach Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Phil McIntock, Mr. and Mrs. H. Frost, Mrs. Penhall, Mrs. J. H. Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Penhall, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Day, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miford.

Russell Stone of Pasadena, grandson of Mr. E. G. Stone, returned home on Thursday after a few days spent with his grandparents here.

Miss Leora Blakey received word from her cousin Edgar Veale the past week that his sister Mrs. Temple Percy, who is in a sanitarium at Prescott, Ariz., had failed rapidly and knowing the end was not far off wished to be taken to her home in Pantha, Mo. He could not get a parlor car until Saturday and doubted if she would live to reach home. Her husband had sent word that he was on his way to her and the brother was anxiously awaiting his arrival. Mrs. Percy is a sister of Hugh Veale, who was killed in France.

Charles Clay and two daughters, who are staying for a time in Long Beach, called Sunday afternoon at the home of H. B. Anderson. Mr. Clay was for many years a resident of this place, living with his parents, brothers and sister on the place where Charles Parr and family now live. He stated that his brother, Dale Clay was seriously injured about two weeks ago at La Verne, while cranking a truck which happened to be in gear and jammed him against a wall. His left leg was broken above the knee and the muscles badly twisted. The bone had not knit properly and he was to undergo an operation on Monday and a silver plate inserted. It was hoped this would prevent the necessity of amputation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thompson and Irvine Thompson spent Sunday at Pomona.

Miss Laura Thompson of the California Hospital, Los Angeles, came on Thursday morning for a short visit with her brother H. J. Thompson and wife.

Miss Marjorie Byram went to Los Angeles Saturday to spend a few days with her cousin, Miss Ruth Sedwick. As the water had gone down so low in the well on Mrs. Blakey's place, that it could not be pumped, P. P. McIntock put on additional pipe so that it would pump seventeen feet lower than before. It is thought this will be low enough for all emergencies.

Miss Cyril Stoves enjoyed a week end visit with four cousins from Los Angeles who came Saturday evening. They were Mr. and Mrs. George Collins and little son, Vernon and Mr. Collins' brother, Ed Collins. Accompanied by Miss Stoves they visited their aunt, Mrs. J. L. Johnson in Orange Sunday morning and returned and spent the afternoon at Long Beach. They returned home that evening.

Ed Collins received his discharge from the navy three weeks ago having served four years previous to the war and for two years and three months during the war. He served on the St. Louis, which was a convoy ship until the armistice and afterwards became a troop ship. Collins was across the Atlantic thirty two times or sixteen round trips.

Mr. and Mrs. Will McClintock of Garden Grove accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Marquis and daughters, Miss Venola of Montevia called Sunday evening at the R. E. Larter home. Mrs. Marquis and daughter will spend the week in this vicinity visiting relatives.

SANTA ANA BANKERS BANQUET AT LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, July 22.—The California National Bank of Santa Ana, entertained its entire staff at a banquet at Laguna Beach Saturday night, this place being chosen because it is the summer home of E. E. Vincent, president of the bank. C. D. Bronner's White House restaurant was the place chosen for the dinner and an excellent repast was served.

E. A. White, acting as toastmaster, called upon Frank Hanson, among others to "sing, dance, or say something." Mr. Hanson responded by saying, "Mr. Hanson responded with a clever ditty.

L. M. Doyle, in his response to the toastmaster, showed the true spirit of the craft—unbounded optimism. Because of ill health, Mr. Doyle expects to "lay off" for a time. Mr. White coined the bank's new slogan—"One million before January 1, 1920." and he also hinted at salary increases that would conform with the increase of the bank's business. M. M. Doyle, expressing his gratification at the success of the institution, gave a little kindly and sage advice on matters connected with banking.

Both before and after the dinner the members of the party visited the art gallery, and a few of them enjoyed the dancing at the pavilion.

CONTRACT LET FOR MUNICIPAL LANDING

NEWPORT BEACH, July 22.—The board of trustees at the last meeting received bids on the construction of a municipal landing at the foot of Nineteenth street, the low bidder being Wilson Bros. Commercial company, of Balboa, and the contract was awarded to them. Only two bids were submitted, the other being a bid by The Mercereau Bridge & Construction Co., of Los Angeles, of $1,795,000. Wilson Bros. Co. bid on the work at $650, the piling to be furnished by the city. Engineer Paul E. Kressly's estimate on the job was $955,70, which included all material to be furnished by the contractor.

Only one bid was received on the wharf at 30th street and Newport bay, which will be built by the city as a municipal improvement, the figures being $995,000, made by the Mercereau Bridge & Construction Co. The bid was referred to the board as a committee of the whole.

son and family. During their stay, Miss Rosalie Benson was also a visitor and on her return to Sherman, a Los Angeles suburb, Mrs. Benson accompanied her and was present at her marriage to Harry Peterson who is one of the chief electricians at the Southern Pacific shops. Mrs. Peterson lived here some years ago and attended the grammar school here.

Mrs. Mattie Wilson, who has purchased a home in Huntington Park, expected to take possession the 20th of this month but is obliged to wait until the present occupant can find a house to move into. Her goods are packed ready for shipment as soon as she gains possession.

Mrs. Mary Tilton of Los Angeles, who spent the past week at the home of her brother, H. B. Anderson, went to Eagle Rock Friday evening to attend the silver wedding anniversary of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson. She returned the same night in company with Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bear.

Mrs. J. H. Gilbert of Los Angeles spent Thursday and Friday visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. T. Wardle. John Ingham has bought five or six good sized chicken houses that were on the Hickey place. They were moved to his place by the house-mover, Ralph Patterson.

George Abbott spent Sunday at Huntington Park.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Wild and son Donald, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Griffith and son Harry, Jr., of Los Angeles were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Larter. Mr. Griffith has recently returned from France where he served as a railroad engineer. He returned about two months ago from France and has spent the intervening time at Denver, Colo., where he had been in attendance at a meeting of railroad men. He arrived at his home in Los Angeles Saturday night for the first time since his return to this country.

Most Sensational Swimmer of America Is Entered In Big Inter-Alleed Games

Missoula Mike Has Something Good To Say of Cravath

"You can't keep a good man down," philosophized Missoula Mike in the Los Angeles Times recently discussing the Philadelphia managerial job tacked onto Gavy Cravath of Santa Ana. Harry A. Williams, Times writer, quotes the Marine as follows:

"What I was getting at is old Woodenshoes Cravath. Now that the Phillies have been wished on him, folks out this way ain't got nothin' except good wishes for him. Woodenshoes is one of us. As far as I can recollect he is the third who learned the game on the California sand lots to get the big boost into a major league managerial job, the others bein' Frank Chance an' Hal Chase.

"Now I ain't claimin' that being made boss of the Phils under present conditions can be ranked as the highest honor in baseball. In fact, the good wishes which I have heard expressed all along the line has been mingled with commiseration. Philadelphia now occupies that low level in the great national pastime held by Cincinnati until the Reds took it into their intelligence to vacate.

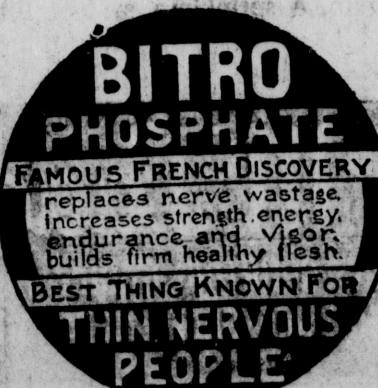

"What I was gettin' at was how long it took Cravath to gain recognition of any kind. Old Woodenshoes has certainly clanked along over a mighty rocky road. His wasn't no path strewn with roses, nor even hollyhocks. After Jim Moley digs Cravath out of the peatlands down beyond Santa Ana, Woodenshoes hangs the ball around in a way to attract big league attention. Finally he is sent up to the Boston Red Sox with Walter Carlisle. Neither of 'em lasted long. Carlisle was shipped straight back to the minors, Kansas City being his jumpin' off place. Gavy stuck in the big show some longer seein' parts of the circuit by way of Washington and Chicago. But after a brief trial he was relegated to Minneapolis, then the dumpin' ground of the White Sox. It was like buryin' him alive, as the Minneapolis club was sort of an institution for the aged an' infirm, conducted by the Cantonment boys. Some seemed to think that Cravath was kept there under some sort of a 'cover up' arrangement. But such hittin' as his couldn't be covered up permanently, no more than Thomas A. Edison could conceal all his assorted incandescents under a bushel basket.

"So, after years of minor leagin' it in Minn., Woodenshoes at last gets a real trial in Philadelphia, and the fans know the rest. I don't think that no athlete kept pluggin' along under more discouragin' conditions. All of which explains my openin' remark about it bein' impossible to keep a good man down. Now, if he can make something out of the Phils along about next season or the next it will be a fittin' climax to the career of a game an' unassum'n' guy."

STATE TESTING CABINET FORM GOVERNMENT

Department Will Control All Activities in Agri- culture

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 22.—California began an experiment in the cabinet form of state government today. The department of agriculture was established to control all state governmental activities of an agricultural nature.

State Horticultural Commissioner G. H. Hecke has been selected by Gov. Stephens as cabinet officer to head the new department. If the trial proves satisfactory bills will be introduced before the next legislature for a complete cabinet system of state government, with 12 departments in addition to a division of finance to control all governmental functions.

A bill providing for the department of agriculture was passed by the legislature this spring. All laws passed during the session, except emergency measures, became effective today.

A law giving the wife equal rights with the husband in testamentary disposition of community property among those becoming effective today, is to be fought in the courts, to test its constitutionality.

It calls for a division of the community property, unless otherwise disposed of in the will, and requires consent of both husband and wife for the testamentary disposition.

State aid for orphans is greatly increased beginning today. Orphans and half-orphans will now receive $10 per month where half-orphans formerly got $6.25 a month and whole orphans $8.33.

State elementary school appropriations are also greatly increased, the rate being raised from $550 to $800 per teacher.

A state industrial farm for delinquent women is authorized, and $150,000 appropriated to fund it.

The label "imitation milk" is required on all milk products in which any adulterants are used. This law was framed to hit milk canners who remove the butter fats from milk, replacing them with coconut oil, or other substitutes.

The revised motor vehicle act, while raising the speed limit from 30 to 35 miles, makes many new safety regulations for auto traffic. It standardizes traffic rules by making the state rules, effective in cities and in towns throughout California, as well as upon the highways in the country districts.

Lieutenant Norman Ross Holds Seven World's Amateur Marks

By ROY GROVE
PARIS, July 22.—A whole swimming team. That's Norman Ross, lieutenant aviator, representing America in the inter-alleged games in Paris.

America has had some remarkable swimmers in the past Olympic meets, but none have been as sensational as Ross' recent performance.

Single handed, he won five championships for the A. E. F., which gave the Yanks a safe lead.

Winning the long distance, middle distance, short distance, back stroke and free style, he led in every race and finished with an easy margin, defeating many allied champions, including Australia's world's holder, W. Longworth.

On top of all this he made two out of three of America's points in water polo and made up the lost distance in the relay team.

Ross also holds several world's amateur records, made in the United States.

Why Hold a Sprinkling Hose?

Wills new sprinkling system gives perfect distribution of water to all parts of the lawn—and works while you continue with other work or read the evening paper.

Cheapest to Install a Most Durable Efficient System

Can Be Installed Without Tearing Up Lawn

DURABILITY

The Wills Sprinkling System is made of 1/2-inch galvanized iron pipe, especially prepared for durability. No rust, no leaks to mend. There is practically no limit to its lasting qualities.

EFFICIENCY

The principal feature of this system is the manner of perforation. The water falls in a fine, steady spray and reaches every corner of space. Not a dry spot left as with the ordinary methods of sprinkling.

CHEAPNESS

The Wills Sprinkling System is laid along the walks and around the border of the lawn. It is not under ground, but the pipe is not noticeable when properly laid. It is therefore cheapest to install.

We have a number of these systems in use in Santa Ana and will gladly give names on application.

U. S. Geological Survey Completes Contour Map of This Vicinity

Guy Elliott Mitchell, of Washington, D. C., representing the United States geological survey, who is just now staying in Southern California, was a recent visitor in Santa Ana looking after the interests and distribution of the topographic, contoured maps, published by the geological survey. In discussing the advantages of a topographic map, Mr. Mitchell said:

"The government is spending an enormous amount of money, and California as well is spending a great sum, in making these topographic maps. They are the best kind of maps in the world. They are the ideal maps for hikers in the mountains; they are similar to the maps by which the allied artillerymen at the French front got the range of the German objectives, and blew them to smithereens. The topographic map of Santa Ana and the vicinity is by far the best that has ever been made of the region, and probably the best that ever will be made. It is for sale here at the local stores at a very nominal price, and I can give you my word that Uncle Sam himself would like to see it in the hands of everybody. There are other maps, of course, adjoining the Santa Ana section, for a large portion of the state has been thus topographically mapped."

"How does California compare with other states in this topographic mapping?" was asked of Mr. Mitchell.

California Way Ahead
"Oh, California," was the reply, "is way ahead of most of them. The federal government has been carrying on this work—making a great topographic map of the United States—when completed it will be over an acre in extent, and California is co-operating on the California portion of the map, putting up a dollar against every dollar the government spends. With this help the state has pushed way ahead of most of the other states and is now about three quarters completed. The California map itself will be no slouch for size—about 75 feet high. It will be the largest, and yet the most detailed and expensive map in the world."

"A topographic map," continued Mr. Mitchell, "is a wonderful piece of engineering, portrayed on paper. Its unique and most valuable feature is the brown contour lines, which always

County Clerk Backs and City Recorder Routed Out of Bed at 2:30 A. M.

When Cupid's dart strikes, sometimes it strikes hard, and this seems to have been the case with Spencer F. Worthington, 21, and Mary E. Grosch, 18, both of Los Angeles, who at 2:30 this morning routed County Clerk Backs and City Recorder Heathman out of bed in order that they might tie up for life.

They were accompanied by relatives and friends, there being about ten in the party.

They drove into Santa Ana about 2 o'clock this morning and stopped at the city hall, where Desk Officer I. N. Barnett advised them as to the "ropes." Backs was called first and then Heathman, and by the time the latter arrived at the clerk's office the license had been issued and the contracting parties were ready to take their vows.

It was just fifteen minutes to three when they were pronounced man and wife by Heathman. The happy couple, followed by other members of the party, returned to Los Angeles at once.

Booze Is Not a Good Cure.

From the Ames Iowa Intelligencer.
When a man comes to you all doubled up with pain and declares he will die in your presence unless you procure him a drink of whiskey, send him to a doctor or else give him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. There is a mistaken notion among a whole lot of people that booze is the best remedy for colic and stomach ache.—Advertisement.

follow the levels, winding in and out of every inequality of the land surface and thus showing every detail of topography—every physical characteristic. By this I mean the shapes and the exact positions of the hills and mountains, the slopes, the cliffs, the gulches and the draws, and most interesting of all the elevations above sea level of every point on the map. Place your pencil on any point on the map and in ten seconds you can determine the altitude of that point, be it mountain top, knob, gulch, or any place on or off the trail, wherever you may happen to be.

Dictionary of Altitude

"A topographic map is thus for the hiker, the camper, or the real estate man or the engineer a complete 'dictionary of altitudes' for one only every named, but every unnamed, point. The Santa Ana map will show you, for instance, the shape and exact height of Red Hill, and also that Mrs. Jones' house which is right along the Santa Ana branch of the S. P. in Santa Ana is the same elevation above the ocean as the Anaheim National Bank, and the same as the house of Mrs. Spaulm in Fullerton, although she thinks she lives almost in the mountains, but that Mrs. Jones' house is 31 feet higher than Brookhurst, and 60 feet higher than Almond."

"The cost of surveying and engraving the Santa Ana map I should estimate to be not less than $6,000, Santa Ana and its surrounding country being shown in two sheets, all the way from the Pacific ocean to north of the Puente Hills; but this tremendous cost need not scare anybody away from buying a map, because little more than the price of paper, printing and distributing is figured."

Mr. Mitchell stated that he had been in camps, farther north, with the geological survey engineers, where five field parties are now working on uncompleted areas.

Sam Stein has plastered one of his show windows with the maps.

It was just fifteen minutes to three when they were pronounced man and wife by Heathman. The happy couple, followed by other members of the party, returned to Los Angeles at once.

PLAN TO PAVE STRIP OF ROAD AT OLINDA

Plans are under way for paving three-fourths of a mile, of road at Olinda, and the county engineer was yesterday instructed to prepare plans and specifications for the work. The pavement is to be eighteen feet wide, and the road extends eastward from the present pavement to serve oil territory not now connected with the good roads system. The board also passed a resolution declaring a strip of the Olinda road, forty feet wide, which has been in use as a highway, to be a county public thoroughfare.

Reported Murder Turned Out To Be a Fight Over Room Rent

City Marshal Jernigan and Police Officers Boynton and Combs, aided and abetted by City Attorney Scott, had a more or less exciting time about 11 o'clock last night. The occasion for the excitement was the misunderstanding of City Attorney Scott of the statement of a young Mexican who rushed up to his door about 11 o'clock and said something that Scott understood to have been about someone getting shot on Fourth street, east of the home of Scott.

Scott called the city hall and imparted the information and by the time the news got around to all the officers including the city marshal, it appeared that a foul murder had been committed. All the officers were on the move fast, and Jernigan had just about dozed off for a "snooze" when the ring of his phone disturbed him.

He donned his clothing, jumped into his car and chased up and down lacy street for a time looking for the disturbance, and later finding that the information he had was not correct started out again, arriving at 915 E. Fourth street just after Boynton had placed a Korean by the name of Earl C. Chor under arrest. Combs also had found the place by this time.

It developed that the Korean and his wife had rented the place a few days ago, after coming here from Imperial. They were warned not to attempt to conduct a rooming house. The wife, having an eye to business, rented a Mexican and wife one of the rooms for $8 per month, cash in advance.

When Mr. Hubby learned that he wanted the money, The wife refused to divulge. He then threatened his tenants—he would put them out unless they paid him the money or his wife divulged. About this time the Mexican conceived the idea of calling in the officers.

Chor was taken to jail, and this afternoon he was found guilty by City Recorder Heathman of conducting a rooming house without a license and was fined $20, which he paid.

SHERIFF HAS BEANS FOUND AT HOG RANCH

There is a certain element of mystery about the finding of two sacks partly filled with lima beans, totaling about sixty pounds, near the Irvine hog ranch. There is no mystery about the beans for they are ordinary healthy looking specimens and they are securely in the possession of Sheriff Jackson. The only mystery is where they were taken from and why they were hid. Two men, believed to have stolen the beans, were seen by the light of their campfire near the ranch the other night but when officers were called to the scene the following day the men had disappeared. The beans were found hid nearby and confiscated pending further developments.

WANT DONALD FISK ON FELONY CHARGE

Local officers have been asked by the Ventura sheriff to be on the lookout for Donald Fisk of that place, wanted on a felony charge. Fisk is described as 25 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in height, smooth shaven, with blue eyes and brown hair. He has tattoo marks on both arms and is a returned service man, so may be in uniform. He left Ventura with a man and woman in a Buick car.

FOUR FAIL TO GAIN U. S. CITIZENSHIP

Out of a class of five, only one succeeded in winning his American citizenship papers in the superior court here yesterday. He was James William Bishop, a businessman of Buena Park. Douglas Ross' case was continued to July 23 for taking the oath, and three cases were continued to the next citizenship class on October 20, these petitioners being Charles Derige, Carl G. O. Gutzman and Christian Frederick Carl Maah.

Judgment in favor of the plaintiff has been entered in the suit of J. W. Walls against Anna and Emil Klaus et al. Suit was brought to set aside an alleged fraudulent conveyance to ranch property, the court holding that such "conveyance" did not convey the property as claimed.

HOUSES SCARCE REALTY SALES HELD BACK

Agents Say They Have Difficulty In Getting Property Listed

"If I sell, where'll I move to?"

This is the question that is fired daily at Santa Ana real estate agents who are endeavoring to increase the list of properties that they have to offer for sale.

The dealers say that the scarcity of houses in Santa Ana is causing sales of real estate to slow down. There are plenty of customers for residence property that is priced within reason, but the question as to where a family will find a place it can rent is one that comes first to mind these days when an opportunity to sell arises.

The scarcity of houses is holding back the growth of Santa Ana's population right now. Real estate dealers say that they haven't enough houses listed for sale; that is, enough houses priced at figures that are likely to be persuasive.

"A bargain goes in a hurry," said one dealer today.

BEGIN WORK ON CANYON ROAD PAVING JOB THIS WEEK

Contractor Steele Finley Has Crew of 25 Men Making Ready, Opening By-Pass

Preliminary work preparatory to laying the last link of good road in the Santa Ana canyon is being completed by Contractor Steele Finley, and by the last of this week the present dirt road over Sulphur Slide will be closed, and travel will be routed via a by-pass following the route of the old road along the river.

Contractor Finley now has a crew of about twenty-five men on the job. They have established camp above Sulphur Slide and for several days past men and teams have been getting the by-pass into condition to take care of the travel while the slope road is being paved. This by-pass is now completed, and soon the work of grading and rolling the road will begin.

The contractor is starting work above Sulphur Slide and will work down the canyon to connect with the pavement above Peralta.

The link to be paved is nearly four miles in length, and the new pavement is expected, will be opened to travel by Christmastime. As the Sulphur Slide road is completed, a second by-pass will be opened and the paving will continue down the canyon. There will be a six per-cent grade over the slide.

The supervisors yesterday authorized the purchasing agent and county engineer to assist in hauling crushed rock to the canyon job in order that the supply of rock may be on hand as the contractor proceeds.

One of Finley's first tasks is to provide a water supply and he is doing this by running a 275-foot pipeline up the hill to a large water tank. Water will be pumped into the tank from the river, and then flow through another pipe to the spot where needed.

ACTRESS WIFE MUST NOT TRAIL HUSBAND

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—Preliminary hearing of the suit by De Kalb Spurlin for an injunction to prevent his wife, Camille Astor Spurlin, motion picture actress, from employing detectives to follow him, claiming it interferes with his real estate business, was brought up before Judge Jackson yesterday.

Cautioning Spurlin not to dispose of the property, but refusing to modify the restraint, Judge Jackson warned Mrs. Spurlin, who was in court, not to interfere with her husband's business.

210 PIANOS ORDERED FOR SCHOOLS OF L. A.

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—Two hundred and ten pianos were ordered purchased last night by the Board of Education, for use in the city schools. In the past instruments have been rented at great cost to the city.

Equipping the school system with pianos will cost $49,125, it was announced.

In a report of the finance committee it was stated that there was prospect for the sale of Mercantile place, which is property of the Board of Education, at an early date. No intimation was made of the identity of the prospective purchaser.

GEN. TERRAZAS, AGE 90, OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—Gen. Luis Terrazas, once rated as the richest man in Mexico, yesterday celebrated his ninetieth birthday anniversary at his home, 1245 Gramercy place. His seven sons and two daughters, who live in Los Angeles, visited their father, but there was no formal celebration of the event.

Gen. Terrazas' wife died three months ago. His relatives in Los Angeles include his son-in-law, Enrique Creel, former Mexican ambassador to the United States.

Gen. Terrazas commanded the Mexican troops against the French at the battle of Chihuahua, March 25, 1869, which defeated the efforts to place Maximilian of Austria on the throne of Mexico.

Santa Ana Youth Coming To Coast With Huge Fleet

Homer Iman

Son of Undersheriff Iman on Battleship Georgia Happy 'Gob'

There is at least one Santa Ana man now en route to this coast with the newly created Pacific fleet of the United States navy, and that is Homer Iman, son of Undersheriff and Mrs. J. H. Iman, of 818 Orange avenue. And he is a tickled 'gob,' now that the war is over, at being transferred to the Pacific coast close to the home folks.

Iman is aboard the battleship Georgia, one of the flagships of the fleet, and has been a fireman. Recently, however, he passed the examination for water tender, and may by now have received his promotion.

During the war young Iman made several trips across the Atlantic on the Georgia and enjoyed the thrill of a torpedo attack or two. He took to the navy like a duck to water, and was a member of the pennant winning boat crew of the Georgia in a race with other vessels of the fleet. He has also won something of a reputation as a boxer.

"I would like to go around the Horn instead of through the canal," Iman recently wrote home, "but I'm not saying anything about it as the arrangements have already been made and the Admiral probably wouldn't care to change the schedule just on my account."

Activities of Marine on Day and Nights in Many Parts of World

The sun never sets on the activities of the Marine Corps. While the men of the globe, eagle and anchor are at noon chow at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, their brothers of the service are turning out for morning guard mount or troop at Mare Island, while the boys at Pearl Harbor, in the Hawaiian Islands, are probably finishing up morning chow and getting ready for police work, for when it is night in New York, it is 8:45 a. m. at San Francisco and 6:25 a. m. at Pearl Harbor.

At Peking, China, the Legation Guard is "corking off," for it is a little past midnight when most marines get in their "beauty sleep" while the boys in Cavite and Olongapo, in the Philippines, are also fast asleep, for, according to Hoyle, they have gone to bed nineteen minutes before the marines in Peking.

Over in Germany, the Rhine patrol has just clanked the bell three times, while some of the Army of Occupation are at their evening meal, for it is about 5:30 p. m. The leathernecks in Paris rate chow a few minutes earlier than in Coblenz.

On land and sea and in the odd nooks and corners of the world, the business is not chasing the rainbow. It's clean, profitable employment. Board, lodging and medical attention are free.

GREEN FRUIT WORKERS, SAN JOAQUIN, STRIKE

FRESNO, July 22.—Green fruit workers, members of the newly-formed Central California Fruit Workers' Union, to the number of 500 men and women, went on strike yesterday throughout the San Joaquin Valley, according to announcement here by S. E. Bentley, the business agent for the new union. The strike went into effect at the green fruit packing plant of every firm that did not sign the agreement, assenting to the closed shop and recognition of the new union. Bentley said: "The workers will remain out until their points are conceded, regardless of any loss the shippers may suffer. Immediately a firm signs the agreement, the men and women will be ordered to return to work. The men on strike comprise car loaders, packers, loaders and box makers."

VETERANS WILL GATHER NEXT MONDAY FOR TWO WEEKS

Annual Encampment Will Be Held As Usual at Huntington Beach

On Monday next veterans of Southern California will gather at Huntington Beach for their annual encampment—an event that has been held at Huntington Beach for many years. July 28 to August 9 is the time for the assembling of the defenders of the Union flag of '61.

The veterans look forward from one encampment to the next with the keenest pleasure, for it is here that many of the "boys" who fought side by side meet and renew their friendships and recount their exploits of the early days.

With the ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic being depleted year by year at a rapid rate, many who were there last year will not be with their comrades this year.

Following is the daily program for the encampment:

Tuesday, July 23—Usual camp opening. Evening reception. Address of welcome. Response by Commander T. M. Barrett.

Wednesday, July 24—9 a. m., flag raising with appropriate exercises. Evening entertainment, camp fire, "Be Sure you tell it Straight."

Thursday, July 25—10 a. m., reunion by states; 2 p. m., fat folks and funny folks, look out! Evening entertainment, Jessie Benton Fremont Tent No. 4.

Friday, August 1—2 p. m., ex-prisoners of war and army nurses will hold their usual exercises. Evening entertainment by Bartlett Logan Post and Corps.

Saturday, August 2—10 a. m., slaughter of pigs, Mary Dunning, chief butcher, "No Squalor." 2 p. m., children's exercises in charge of May Watson, Sadie Green and Cora Byrum. Evening entertainment by Whittier Post and Corps.

Sunday, August 3—10 a. m., Memorial exercises. Sermon by Chaplain Rev. C. R. Norton; 4 p. m., dress parade. Evening, sacred and patriotic concert. Singing by G. A. R. Glee Club under the direction of W. E. Herendeen. Harry Neville, pianist.

Wednesday, August 6—10 a. m., election of state officers; 3 p. m., prize dance—can you beat it? Evening entertainment by Santa Ana Daughters of Veterans.

Thursday, August 7—10 a. m., election of association officers. Evening, installation of officers.

BELIEVE SKULL FOUND THAT OF MILLIONAIRE

SANTA BARBARA, July 22.—What is supposed to be the skull of J. Lewis Clark, Spokane millionaire, was found here on the beach today by a junkman who was seeking cast off things more profitable to ship trade than cast up skulls.

Clark was here for his health and so despondent that an attendant followed him at all times. He slipped away one day and the next day his coat and hat were found washed up on the shore near where the skull was found today. Some teeth are left in the skull and an attempt is being made to locate Clark's dentist in the hope of making certain the identity of the skull. Mrs. Clark is not yet convinced that her husband did not walk away, a victim of loss of memory.

WILL BORE WELL TO REPLACE ONE PLUGGED

PASADENA, July 22.—To supplement the water supply of Pasadena a new well is to be bored here to take the place of a Franklin avenue well which has been stopped up, according to announcement of Commissioner M. H. Salisbury of the water department today. Mr. Salisbury charges that the well has been plugged up by some unknown persons, declaring the work too thorough to have been merely accidental dumping into it. The Franklin avenue wells have not been used for several years.

MUCH ROAD WORK IN THE THIRD SUPERVISOR DISTRICT

Contract Jobs in Anaheim-Fullerton Territory Past Year Total $97,736.50

Permanent road improvements costing approximately $100,000 were carried out in the third supervisorial district, comprising Anaheim, Fullerton, and the entire north end of the county, during the past year, according to a report just issued by Supervisor William Schumacher of Buena Park.

The report shows that, in spite of the war, appreciable extensions of the county good roads system were made at Anaheim, Cypress, Brea, Olinda, Fullerton, La Habra and Yorba Linda.

The figures refer only to work done under contract and do not include a vast amount of improvements of dirt roads under the supervision of the road foreman. A part of the work included in the list is not quite completed, but the money is in hand to pay for the same as soon as the contracts are finished.

Mr. Schumacher says that the high and increasing cost of material will prevent much of the work contemplated for the coming year, but that nevertheless all will be done that it will be found possible to do.

Road work done in supervisorial district No. 3 for year ending June 30, 1919, is as follows:

Brea-Olinda, 18-foot concrete pavement. Total cost, $19,525.24.

La Mirada avenue, 18-foot concrete pavement. Total cost, $8,216.16.

Main street, La Habra, 18-foot concrete pavement. Total cost, $1,995.52.

Yorba Linda, bringing dirt roads to grade. Total cost, $28,723.40.

Cypress, about 1-2 mile 18-foot concrete pavement. Approximate cost, $7,419.83.

West Broadway, about 1-2 mile 18-foot concrete pavement. Approximate cost, 7,032.35.

To Road Improvement District No. 3 (now being formed) for paving about 2 1-4 miles on Orangethorpe avenue, $17,000.00.

Material for guard rails, $1,900.00.

One 5-ton Moreland truck and trailer, purchased for use in supervisorial district, $5,944.00.

Total, $97,736.50.

Balance on hand at close of fiscal year, June 30, 1919, approximately $5,000.

Fullerton Board of Trade Fights Change of System

FULLERTON, July 22.—The directors of the Fullerton Board of Trade are strongly opposed to any deviation from the present system of county road management.

At a meeting of the board the report of William Schumacher, supervisor of road work accomplished in the third supervisorial district for the fiscal year ending June 30, was read and generally discussed. This shows a total of $97,736 spent outside of work done on dirt roads by road foreman.

Girl Artist Holds Brush With Teeth after Losing Use of Hands By Illness

ROSALIE FREEDMAN

Good Results Obtained by Trial Spurs Her to Try Portrait Work

NEW YORK, July 22.—Miss Rosalie Freedman is demonstrating the old axiom, "When there's a will there's a way."

Miss Freedman is an artist of ability and some months ago she lost the use of her hands through a severe illness. When she had regained her strength, she found she could not control her hands, but decided that she could paint anyway.

She got out her painting materials and holding the brush in her teeth, started to work. After a little practice she was surprised at the good results and continued at the work. She is now becoming quite adept at manipulating the brush with her teeth, and even paints portraits.

DRIVE IS STARTED FOR DELINQUENT TAX

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—The Internal Revenue Department is commencing a vigorous drive for the purpose of searching out delinquent excise and special taxpayers, including those bound by the manufacturers' tax, ice cream, luxury and jewelry tax.

The department sent deputies in May to instruct the public in regard to the requirements of the law, and it is determined now to find out whether or not the full amount of the taxes is being collected, and if so, if full returns are being made to the government. All who are liable for this tax are warned of their liability and should make return at once to the collector's office.

The tax of each month must be paid within the following month, otherwise a penalty of 25 per cent, and in no case less than $10 will be imposed for those cases in which it is shown that there was either ignorance or at least that there was no willful intent to evade the payment.

MAIN AND FIRST PART OF STATE HIGHWAY, TO BE PAVED

Dr. Ball Makes Plea Before Council to Increase Library Fund

A bond issue for the repaving of North Main street and resurfacing of East First street will probably be submitted to the people of Santa Ana in the very near future by the city council.

Taking the position that these two thoroughfares are on the state highway and bearing sixty-five per cent of the through traffic, and therefore should be improved at the expense of the city rather than at the cost of the property owners, the city council last night discussed, more or less informally, the project of calling an election.

There was no definite action, but the sentiment of the members favored the plan, and there is every possibility that the board will undertake the issue and leave the decision to the voters.

Something is going to be done on Main street, and that pretty quick, and in all probability something will "pop" at the next meeting of the council, which will be next Monday evening.

Incidental to his appearance before the council as a representative of the public library board, Dr. Ball stated that he believed that within two weeks Main street residents will have decided what they want to do with reference to improvements on that street, whether they will prefer to widen the street by eliminating parking and trees, with installation of an ornamental lighting system, or whether they will let present conditions "ride" and be content with repavement of the thoroughfare.

Although it has been three weeks since the Pacific Electric was asked to make a definite statement as to what it would do on the street, repave or get off with its tracks, no word has as yet come from the company. Efforts to get in direct touch with the "higher ups" by a committee appointed for the purpose have been unsuccessful, and the nearest approach to the officials that the committee has been able to get in touch with has been the assistant engineer.

Don't Wait on P. E.
"They say that large bodies move slowly," said Tubbs. "I don't see why we should wait any longer on the P. E. Let's do what we are going to do and do it at once—let the P. E. get into the band wagon if it wants to. I am ready to go to bat. Main street is an eye-sore to the city—a disgrace. Something must be done. If we wait around on the property owners and the P. E. we probably will never get anywhere."

It was suggested that the council meet as a committee of the whole before next Monday evening and be prepared at the meeting Monday evening to take some decisive action.

Word from Mayor Mitchell is to the effect that he will leave Fairmont, Minn., tomorrow on his homeward trip, and in view of the fact that the

CELESTIAL RECORD FOR YEAR IS REVIEWED

Something of History of Industry Here Presented in Cultivator

Celery, once the leading lowlands crop of the county, is not much of an Orange county crop any longer, but those who remained faithful to it last season got record prices. In the last year there were only 125 acres in the county devoted to that crop. Ten years ago there were 5500 acres. The fact that the crop was of a precarious nature, both in growth and prices, led Orange county growers to change their lands from celery to sugar beets and beans.

A review of the last celery season with something of the history of the industry in Orange county, written by H. H. Warner, appears in this week's California Cultivator. In that review is the following:

Celery has been produced commercially in California for about 20 years. The early experimental plantings were made in the vicinity of Santa Francisco, but the first real commercial production was in Orange county, in Southern California, in 1893. D. E. Smeltzer, who came from Kansas City after an unsuccessful attempt to grow celery in Florida, was the first one to see the possibilities of the industry in this state. Through his efforts the peat beds and river bottom lands of the Santa Ana river, between Santa Ana and Huntington Beach, were drained and the water carried away through flumes and ditches to the ocean some five miles away. This wonderfully fertile soil was well adapted to the production of celery and a number of years this district was the only celery producing section in this state.

Two Big Growing Districts
In recent years the acreage grown in Orange county has gradually decreased, owing mainly to the increasing losses from celery blight which seems to be very difficult to control. Continuous heavy cropping on the soils in that district has also reduced the production per acre. Most of the celery now produced in Southern California is grown in the truck garden section around El Monte, where shortage of rainfall and presence of insect pests seem to be the limiting factors. As the shipments from the southern part of the state have fallen off, the production in Contra Costa and Sacramento counties, in what is known as the Sacramento River Delta section, has increased proportionately. For several years the shipments from Orange and Los Angeles counties, once the most important producing area, have been scarcely one-third of the total output in the state, and the central district, some 400 miles farther north, has taken its place. The limiting factors in this district are occasional frosts and unseasonable rains, which cause heavy losses.

When the industry was in its experimental stage the mistake was made of planting in the spring for the production of summer celery. After a few years, it was found that the proper time to plant in California is during the months of July and August, which brings the crop to maturity during November, December, January, February and March. This is now the regular time to harvest, in both the central and southern districts. Beginning in the middle of fall, the shipping season is well under way on the first day of the winter months and continues, interrupted only by severe winds, serious frosts or exceptional market conditions, until all the crop is moved or early spring weather develops seed stock of objectionable length.

Eastern Demand Growing
The rapid growth of this industry in California has been due to the fact that the celery can be placed on the eastern markets in a fresh, crisp condition during the winter months when there is little competition from other sections. California celery commands a good price for the Thanksgiving and Christmas trade when the only competition comes from eastern storage celery. During February and March it still commands the top price, although it meets some competition in early celery from Florida. In the season 1918-1919, California shipped 480 cars out of a total for the United States of 4538 cars. California's only close competitors are New York with 1260 cars, and Florida with 978.

Eastern consumers are demanding more California celery every year and, if insect pests and diseases of the plants can be controlled in the field, there is every reason to believe that the industry will continue to expand. The average yield in the field runs from 1000 to 1200 dozen bunches to the acre. The fields are usually cut over several times and a total yield of one carload, or about 172 crates to the acre, is not uncommon.

Marketing Method
The marketing methods of the two producing sections of this state are very distinct. The grower in the Sacramento River delta section contracts his crop at planting time to one of several large distributors, who furnishes him with seed and makes advances on the crop through the growing season. In the southern district the grower usually sells right from the field at the time of harvest and

BOND ISSUE TO PAVE STREETS PLANNED

More Money for Library Is Urged on Council by
Dr. Ball

project is one of considerable importance, it was deemed best to defer the conference and action until his arrival. It is expected that he will be here in time to attend the meeting, but not in time for a conference and decision, hence the matter will pass over to the regular meeting to follow a week later.

Increase for Library
Declaring that the library has practically outgrown its quarters and that the annual appropriation for the conduct of the public institution is not sufficient to keep the plant up to standard, Dr. Ball, as a member of the Library Board, asked that the board be given $12,500 for the next year, which is almost twice what the board has had at its disposal in past years. Dr. Ball's remarks followed reading of the annual report of the board to the council, in which conditions were related.

Supported by figures, Dr. Ball showed that there had been quite an increase in costs of operation. Binding costs have increased over a period of three years, 191 per cent; fuel, 132 per cent; supplies, 72 per cent, and books, 1.9 per cent. The number of patrons has increased 10 per cent and the circulation 9 per cent. Wages have increased 18 1/2 per cent, and are not what they should be and probably will be the coming year.

"We are confronted with a lack of room at the library," said Dr. Ball. "We can put off building for a short time, but the time is not far distant when we must have more accommodations. We can increase our space a little by improving an uncompleted portion of the basement. It probably will cost $2500 to make improvements needed at this time."

"I would suggest that the council make a visit to the library and see how important it is that the needs of the institution be met."

"The library is one of the greatest assets the city has, and when the new hotel is completed, the demand will be greater than it is at this time. The library lot and building cost the city nothing and it seems to me that the city should take care of facilities for handling the increased demand on the institution. Wm. H. Spurgeon gave the lot and Carnegie provided the money for the building."

The council will visit the library as a committee of the whole, the date to be set later.

City Equipment Obsolete
Tubbs "took a shot" at the city departments with up-to-date equipment, hadn't money enough to provide its departments with up-to-date equipment. It had better get the money. His colleagues were with him in his sentiments.

The suggestion came up in discussion of a request by Councilman Dale, fire commissioner, for an automobile for the fire chief.

"The fire chief should have something that he can get around in to inspect the city," said Tubbs. "He is now making his rounds of the city on a bicycle. If he is at a distance when a fire call comes in, the department is practically has to wait until he can ride his bike either to the hall or to the fire."

"We ought to have truck equipment for cleaning up the streets, and I believe that when the present garbage contract expires the city should take over that work and not only haul away the garbage, but trash, cans, etc. You can go into any junkwater town in Southern California and see better equipment than we have here. Trucks are in use in cleaning up the city. The work is done quicker and better."

"We should get a truck at once to handle the trash and old cans, and when the present garbage contract expires we should have truck equipment and do all the work under city management. With a city the size of Santa Ana it's a shame to have such equipment as we have. If we haven't the money, let's get it."

"Santa Ana is getting to be a city," said H. H. Dale. "She is growing faster and will grow faster than ever. We should get in and provide the city with first-class equipment."

Chapman and Greenleaf expressed themselves in the same light.

The Medical Carpenter
Private McCann (who has permission to speak to his company commander)—Sir, can I have my discharge?

Company Commander—Do you intend to re-enlist?

Private McCann—No, sir, I want to return to my trade.

Company Commander—What is the trade?

Private McCann—Sir, I am a medical carpenter.

Company Commander—A medical carpenter? What do you do, anyhow?

Private McCann—Sir, I am a pill-box maker.—Sergeant Joseph Duffy in Camp Merritt Dispatch.

MOVIE LINER IS NEARLY READY FOR 'CAMERA'

Finishing Touches Being Put on Big Water Set at East
Newport for Fox Co.

The big movie "liner" which has been under construction at East Newport near the pavilion since June 15 is now nearing completion and within a short time will be ready for the director's cry of "Camera!" The big smokestack is in place and the finishing touches are being put on the decks of the ship.

Moving picture folk are ready when they get ready and not before and are notably taciturn about giving the time when big scenes will take place, consequently the exact time when the movie ship will be towed out to sea and wrecked is not known. However, it is understood the Fox Film Company, which is constructing the liner, will begin "shooting" the latter part of this week.

The first scenes will be taken at East Newport, it is said, and then the set will be towed to the ocean and a shipwreck will be staged probably about three miles below Balboa at Abalone Point.

The ship is built on a big barge, 110 feet long and 54 feet wide and is 52 feet from the waterline to the top of the smokestack, and cost approximately $15,000 to build. A crew of two dozen men has been at work preparing the set for the Fox Film Company. William Farnum and Louise Lovely are the stars of the production, entitled "The Wings of the Morning," a special feature by Louis Tracy under the direction of J. Gordon Edwards. There will be about one hundred people in the cast.

Many Orange county people have watched the movie ship under course of construction and no doubt there will be plenty of spectators when the film company actually begins operations on the beach scenes. The dimensions for the ship were taken from the Governor, with certain changes to make the completed ship a duplicate of an ocean liner.

RICH WOMAN FOUND IN GAS FILLED ROOM

VENICE, July 22—Lying in the midst of filth and squalor, Mrs. B. S. Slater, millionaire Venice woman, 30 years old, living at 20 Oakwood avenue, in the Cour d'Alene district, was found yesterday in an unconscious condition on the floor of her bedroom. The cap of a gas lighting apparatus was pulled off and gas was flowing freely into the room, though it partly escaped through a half-open window.

Disorder and dirt were prevalent throughout the house. It is said that although she is an exceedingly rich woman, Mrs. Slater has kept strictly to herself, and was known among the people of the neighborhood as a miser.

B. S. Slater, her husband, a contractor and millionaire in his own name has been in Niagara Falls for some weeks on business, it is stated. He is several years his wife's junior.

A Good Jumper

The returned hero, who, in the course of his career, had jumped 3,000 feet from his observation balloon, was showing his parachute spread out on his lawn to an old lady visitor.

Not understanding the modus operandi of the thing, the old lady remarked: "How clever of you to have jumped from a balloon into such a small sheet."

LOS ANGELES, July 22—Complaining that she was "just past 18 and totally inexperienced in business affairs," Bebe Daniels, film actress, yesterday charged that a second hand automobile, represented to her as good, as new by R. J. Smith and J. L. West-laker, was not in good running order, many parts worn and generally in poor condition and demanded that $500 paid to the dealers be returned. She also asked that a contract to complete payment on her purchase of $1552.52 be declared invalid.

SANTA BARBARA, July 22—Fred Moreland in the police court today announced his conviction that Jamaica ginger is "sure enough booze," and his intention of leaving it alone. Moreland was the first "drunk" arrested in Santa Barbara since July 1st. His story was that he drank a bottle of Jamaica ginger on a bet. The stuff was "all fired hot," he said, and went out for a walk to cool himself and cannot tell just what happened until he began to sober up in the city jail.

The class of people who use the word "perspire" when they mean "sweat" do very little of it.

VON BRINCKENS' DIVORCE CASE UP TODAY

German Spy in Prison Still Loves His Wife But She Seeks Separation

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22—With one party to the case declaring her love dead and the other frankly in love with his wife, the interesting Von Brincken divorce suit came to a hearing today in the court of Superior Judge Flood.

Baron Wilhelm Von Brincken, former German military attaché at the consulate here, now serving a term in the federal prison at McNeill's Island, is being sued by Mrs. Milo Abercrombie—Von Brincken. The case has been tried more than once in the newspapers which have printed passionate love letters from the former German lieutenant to his wife, and in interviews with the woman in which she explained why she sought to divorce herself from the father of her two children.

Attorneys for the former German baron threw out the hint today that he would not contest the suit if Mrs. Von Brincken would agree to allow their two children to bear his name. Von Brincken's devotion to his children, as well as to his wife, has caused considerable comment.

Von Brincken was declared the brains of the German spy system on the coast. He figured deeply in the Hindu plot trials and in cases of alleged dynamiting of Canadian bridges and tunnels. Mrs. Von Brincken remained firm by Von Brincken during his trial. Her love for him did not fail until after Germany had lost the war. This is the final chapter in a romance that deeply interested society on the coast. Mrs. Milo Abercrombie was a famed beauty when she met the German baron. He stands six feet, and with his bearing of a German officer, was a commanding figure. He had big estates in Germany, from which he drew a handsome income. These estates have been lost to him with the conclusion of the war and since his announcement, in an attempt to win back his wife's affections, that he wished to become an American citizen.

AUTO RIDING IN BERLIN FULL OF THRILLS

Taxicab Like Open Faced Gun Boat, Menace to Man and Beast

BERLIN, July 22—Paul Revere was a great rider, and his famous night exploit in the highways and byways of Massachusetts, already immortalized in song, was something both thrilling and praiseworthy.

But, Paul had a great advantage; he lived in a taxless age—especially a Berlin taxless age. If Paul had been making his ride in a post-war Berlin taxi, the poet would have had something more to write about.

In fact, his refrain would have been vastly different. For instance, he would not have had to write "Listen, my children, and you shall hear, etc." On the contrary, the children would have known all about it, and would still be getting the echo, for a Berlin taxicab of the present-day variety is no modest, quiet affair. Everybody knows that it is abroad. It is built like an open-faced gunboat and probably if it had been used for offensive purposes in the war could have created more havoc than a fleet of U-boats. It has no rubber in its makeup. Its tires are of steel, with something of an apology for springs therein.

One approaches the taxi driver in awed fashion, for there aren't many taxis in Berlin—praise be! If the taxi driver is in a good mood he may listen to reason and offer to take his life—and yours—in his hands whilst he ventures forth with his trusty taxi. He turns on the juice. There is a stream of fire, green and red and blue. It looks like a 100 to 1 bet that the taxi will explode—but it doesn't. It groans and creaks, and chugs and snorts, and finally is on in a bunch.

The taxi driver tunes her up. The iron wheels rattle, the body creaks, the machine skids. It makes more racket than a Pittsburgh foundry on a busy day. You hang onto the gunwale and wonder what you've ever done to deserve this.

The driver turns a notch; there's another explosion; the machine slides, and almost kills a Noske guard, to say nothing of some innocent bystanders. The passenger receives absolutely no consideration, for the driver is, of course, a careful driver and knows that there won't be more than two casualties in the machine—that is, the driver badly mangled and the passenger killed outright.

So it goes, very painfully. The driver lets you out at your destination, you take an inventory to find that maybe you'll last until the next time, and then get the bad tidings—the legal rate is three times what the taximeter says, and there's no argument.

But, at that, for sheer thrills, a Berlin taxi has it all over Paul Revere's galloping steed, the Twentieth Century Limited, the airplane, or the U-boat.
